

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. PREFACE

THE purpose of the author in the preparation of this book is indicated in the title: A Modern French Grammar.

In this Grammar, special attention has been given to the points of contact between the English and the French tongues.

The author believes that his text will be found both comprehensive and practical for the use of instructors in colleges and in higher grade schools. The attention given to the grammatical nomenclature, to drill in oral and reading exercises, to topics of composition and conversation, and to the presentation of idiomatic expressions and of the equivalent terms in the two languages, will, the author believes, have value in making clear to the student the nature of the French language, and the relations borne by it to the English language.

The Section of Pronunciation has been placed at the beginning of the book for use in reference, and with this is connected a phonetic transliteration for the use of elementary classes. It is important that the voice of the instructor should be heard in all grades, in each and every lesson, and in Dictation and Oral Drills. Care should be taken to emphasize with the student the fluent cadence or ring of the French language and the method of the blending of words.

Two University Professors, in recent addresses to French high school instructors, on Methods of Improving the Teaching of Modern French in Secondary Schools, have pointed out that in such instruction sufficient emphasis had frequently not been given to the Gender of Nouns. In the present work, this subject has been very thoroughly cared for, and a long series of examples is presented.

In not a few Grammars, the elimination or the minimizing of introductory work has left the student without the ability to compose correctly even short sentences. To students who desire simply to learn to read French, the usual course of grammatical topics, together with an Elementary Reader may properly be recommended; but for the student who is anxious to solve the problem of wording a sentence correctly, and to make further progress towards accurate and graceful expression, it is essential that the two languages be compared and contrasted. It is through comparison and assimilation that the interest of the pupil is aroused and his mind is sharpened. When a certain mastery has been secured of French composition, the pupil is able to make comparatively rapid progress in the expression of his ideas with a wider choice of phrases and a trustworthy vocabulary.

A method of study of a foreign tongue which aims at simplicity may easily lead to a knowledge that is but superficial. An intelligent study of French calls for a wide range of treatment; and the examples of expression given in this volume have been selected with the purpose of enabling the student to secure a proper form of expression for his ideas.

It has been thought advisable to group together the vital divisions of the Grammar, and for this purpose the presentation of a verb, a tense, a pronoun, or an idiomatic expression is interpreted and illustrated under various relations so as to meet as far as possible varied requirements.

The use of a Modern Reader and the reading of selected stories will bring to a pupil a reading facility, but if he is ambitious to secure familiarity with the intricacies of a living language, it is essential that he shall obtain a mastery of Syntax. The student must observe, compare, analyze, connect, and direct the mechanism of the language so as to secure a fair grasp of its nature and its genius.

The author emphasizes the importance of the mastery of a comprehensive vocabulary, which alone can bring to the student the requisite knowledge of the various interpretations or phases of meaning of words; but in this Grammar it is the structure of a sentence that receives special attention. Unless a trustworthy model is kept before the student or a text-book be utilized as a guide or reference, he may easily be led into a pitfall of clumsy expression as a result of the different phases of meaning attaching to the same word when connected with different prepositions or verbs.

Il est bon de limer et de frotter notre cervelle contre celle d'autrui.—MONTAIGNE.

PRONUNCIATION AND PRACTICAL PHONETICS

I.—Punctuation

Its first use dates 200 years B.C. and is attributed to Aristophanes of Byzantium. But it was not generally used as the pauses replaced it. In French it plays an important part.

§ 1. Virgule.—The comma (virgula or little rod used by the Romans) was first used in correcting sentences, then for pauses in sentences.

Le père, la mère, le fils sont bons.

Le français est facile, le travail difficile.

Rule: A comma contributes to clearness by indicating small interruptions between subjects, attributes, verbs, and propositions. Words in apposition, explanations, etc., require the comma; in fact any group of words or short clause.

- § 2. Point-Virgule (;) or semicolon marks, as in English, the division of sentences somewhat more lengthy although strictly connected by the sense.

Son rhumatisme le fait souffrir; la fièvre l'a repris.

Mon cheval est blanc; celui de mon père est noir.

- § 3. Point (period).—In abbreviations or at the end of a complete sentence.

M. ou Mme. Mlle., etc.

L'Amérique, l'Europe, l'Asie, l'Afrique, et l'Océanie.

- § 4. Point d'Interrogation (?).—In questions; not in indirect questions.

Quel est cet homme?

But, je demande quel est cet homme.

- § 5. Point d'Exclamation (!).—In interjections or sentences expressing joy, admiration, terror, etc.

O Liberté! que de crimes on commet en ton nom.

Dieu sauve le roi!

- § 6. Points de Suspensions (. . .).—In quotations they mark the omission of superfluous words; in descriptions they mark interruptions, reticence.

Présents: MM. . .

Absents: MM. . .

Sur la première question, M. C. . . demande la parole et . . .

III.—Orthographic Marks

are: acute, grave, circumflex, cedilla, apostrophe, diæresis and hyphen.

§ 17. The acute accent occurs only on e which is sounded as ay: été, répété, etc.

§ 18. The grave occurs on à, là, voilà, déjà, où and mostly on words ending in ère, ète, ène: père, mère, frère, je répète, je mène, etc.

- § 19. The circumflex (grave and acute) shows frequently the loss of s in tête, fête, hôpital, hôte, etc.

In the old French those words are written teste, feste, etc.

In 1680 P. Richelet wrote these words with the circumflex; the s being no longer pronounced in those words from the 13th century to 1740 was continued however to be used by some writers.

On certain vowels it is a sign of contraction: mûr = mêur = maturum, sûr = sêur = securum.

- § 20. Cedilla (introduced in 1529)—in Italian zediglia or little z—was placed under c to give it the sound of s before a, o, u.

Français, leçon, reçu.

- § 21. Apostrophe.—As in English it shows the elision of the vowels a, e, i, at the end of a word and before another word beginning with h mute or a vowel: thus: l'ami, l'homme, l'âme, s'il vous plaît.

- § 22. Diæresis (trema) was introduced in 1540. The two dots over ï, ë, ü in Noël, Saül, haïr, ciguë, etc., indicate that the vowels are sounded separately: No-ël, Sa-ül, ha-ïr, etc., etc.

Otherwise the words do not form a diphthong: ligue, catalogue, etc.

- § 23. Hyphen.—To-day it has become optional in connecting words or groups of words into one; we may write with or without the hyphen: chef-lieu or chef lieu; moi-même or moi même; ai-je or ai je; dis-le or dis le.

The hyphen was first used in 1573.

NOTE.—It may not be advisable to omit it in Verbs of the first conjugation such as aimé-je, flatté-je or in a-t-il, etc.

Classification of Vowels and Consonants

The vowels are a, e, i, o, u, y.—They are either short or long: thus, à, a are short; a (letter) is long. Moreover, they are divided into tonic, atonic and nasal.

In the 16th century the j and the v (i and u consonants) were often written i or j, u or v by the French. Dubois (1531) first distinguished i from j and v from u.

In the following lessons, the vowels will be carefully studied from a practical point of view.

§ 24. Consonants:

- 7 dental—d, l, n, r, s, t, z.
- 6 labial—b, f, m, p, v, w.
- 3 palatal—k (c), g, h.
- 2 spirants—ch, j.

V.—Simple Vowels

§ 25. A.—Its timbre or quality of voice. When long the a is uttered fully and deeply in upward direction:

La (note in music), Jacques, a (letter of the alphabet), âme, âne, grâce, mât, lâche, gars, Dumas, mâtin, mâle, rage, pâte, las, bât, crâne, câble, fable, etc.

Short a:—Il a, à, ma, la, sa, la, là, ça, sofa, il parla,—in all verbs ending in—er: nous parlâmes, vous parlâtes, Versailles, paille, bague, champagne, sacre, tache, place, acte, pacte, pâtisserie, lame, etc.

NOTE.—On the last syllable but one, the vowel is generally short when followed by a double consonant: salle, pelle, folle, motte, butte, ville, etc.

The a grave sound under the roof of the mouth; it is louder, larger, fuller than a aigu. The latter requires only a slight effort and expires on the lower lip.

In the French language the vowels (short) are always voyelles aiguës and the graves always long. From the grave to the aigu there are degrees of sonority or nuances of sound, but they are not as sharply defined as in the case of the vowel e.

Some writers maintain that a may be uttered in five different ways according to its position in a word. The first a in papa is shorter than the last; the a in Paris is shorter than a circumflex in Pâris; the a in pâte reaches the roof of the mouth while the a in patte is flat; the a in phrase, écraser is deeper than a in race, face; a in car sounds further back into the mouth than avoir; the last a in Canada more upward than at in avocal.

§ 26. E naturel in le, me, te, ce, se, que, ne, and je.

E fermé in vérité, été, répété, parler (verbs of the first conjugation); léger, chez, entrez, nez, etc.

E ouvert in père, mère, frère, hiver, fer, vert, cher, hier, mer, etc., sounds as ai in air.

Also in les, des, mes, ses, tes, ces, est, etc.

E ouvert allongé in bête, lête, fête, même, tempête, etc., sounds as a prolonged ai in air.

NOTE.—The é fermé is called masculin, because at the end of an adjective or past participle, it denotes the masculine gender: aimé.

E mute without accent is slightly pronounced at the end of a syllable: monde, pelle; it is silent in soie, soierie.

The mute e, medial or final, seems since the 15th century, to have been either mute or heard as it is to-day in conversation. Ex.: J' n'en sais rien, but, we say: je n'sais pas. Other examples: j'vais mettre un' let' à la pos' for je vais mettre une lettre à la poste; c'est un' fenêtre, although we say, la f'nêtre.

E mute is also silent in: prierai, jouerai, prie, pries, prient, oublierai, etc.

Rule: After an unaccented (atonic) vowel, after an accented (tonic) vowel, the e is silent; after a consonant it is almost silent: il criera, il louera, samedi; in other words, the mute e is the weakest of our French sounds generally audible at the end of words like: monde, fidèle, but silent in jolie, folie.

E mute is often elided at the end of words immediately followed by a vowel or h mute: une oreille attentive, une heureuse année, la vie est un songe.

NOTE.—In poetry, a mute syllable does not count at the end of a line, neither in any part of the line when elided.

E mute is called féminin because it forms the feminine of adjectives: pur, pure; cher, chère; saint, sainte; complet, complète; in poetry, it designates the rimes féminines.

Grammarians say: there cannot be two mute e's in succession at the end of a word.

Dieu a créé le monde; in this example both e's are acute. L'école fut fondée; the final e is silent.

In words of one syllable, the voice hardly attacks the e; especially in colloquial utterance: jě ně lě fěrai pas; qu'est-cě quě c'est quě ça?

Pronunciation of the E.—Open the mouth (drawing a long breath) expel the breath; the full sound of e in water (no r sound) is reached in French by advancing the lower lip downwards.

Modern pronunciation of French consonants: be, ce, de, fe, etc.

From the preceding remarks pupils may be able to read several words, to spell at least their names in French, to divide words into syllables, etc.

Review

- § 27. For our practical purposes we review briefly: In conversation the a, e (simple vowels) are sounded more quickly than in elocution, singing or poetry.

Feminine syllables characterized by the so-called e mute are very quickly sounded.

To avoid monotony, articulate the division of syllables.

Dictation from the first lessons will gradually help you to hear and distinguish simple sounds.

Règles Générales

§ 28. Any syllable is short whose last vowel is followed by a final consonant (except s or z):

Le sac, le bac, crac, tric, trac, bal, aval, pal, car, instar, par, parc, arc, cap, combat, avocat, in adjectives: plat, ingrat.

Grec, sec, and verbs of the first conjugation: parler, chanter, etc.; et, il remet, il met, and its compounds.

All the preceding nouns, any masculine syllable (i. e., not ending in mute e), short or not in the singular, is long in the plural: les sacs, les Grecs, les bals, etc.

A and E are long before two indivisible RR: bizarre, carreau, arrêt, terre, verre.

S lengthens the a and e in the penultimate syllable: case, phrase, base, table, rase, diocèse, thèse.

Words of dictation:

Pré, gaz, bas, bras, mal, thé, est, rat, blé, arc, chat, sac, mer, être, être, âne, hâte, rôle, rêve, règne, pêche, capre, pâtre, chêne. Le pré, le gaz, le bras, le mal, le thé, le rat, le blé, l'arc, le chat, le sac, la mer, l'être, l'être, l'âne, la hâte, le rôle, le rêve, la règle, la pêche, la capre, le pâtre, le chêne, etc.

Other examples:

L'été, le café, la pâte, le tréma, le chêne, la serre, la terre, le nectar, la vie, la patte, l'armée, la mer, le général, le lac, la tâche, la tache, le lâche, la vache, l'acre, la cascade, la salade, la carafe, la balafre, le mâle, la dalle, César, la trappe, la cabane, la cave, la taxe, la Grèce, la pelle, la scène, Athènes, le gène, Hélène, la lèpre, je pèse, le mètre, Genève, la sève, l'orfèvre, la lèvre.

I

§ 29. I has the sound of ee in English: ami, image timide.

NOTE.—aï, ia, oï are sounded separately in Jamaïque, iambique, égoïste, etc.

I in the Parisian pronunciation, preceded by two different consonants, is always long: patriarche, etc.

Dictation:

L'amî, l'amie, les amis, les amies, le mardi, les mardis, le samedi, les samedis, la biche, les biches, la bible, les bibles, la vie, l'amitié, la maxime, la rime, l'épine, la cire, le Christ, le titre, l'épître, la vitre, le litre, la piste. Hair, Sinai, Thais, Moïse, etc.

Ici, Daniel, animal, aride, acide, défi, garni, minime, nièce, optique, palmiste, pipe, rapide, rétréci, riche, ride, rire, rive, thébaïque, visite, vice, la vie, vizir.

O

§ 30. Long and closed, generally with the circumflex accent, followed by: le, me, ne, at the end of a word: drôle, pôle, rôle, dôme, fantôme, je chôme, Rhône, cône, prône, also in apôtre, le nôtre, le vôtre, la vôtre, les nôtres, les vôtres, etc.

Short in any syllable when vowel o is followed by final consonant (not s or z).

Roc, bol, Médoc, pot, robe, globe, sobre, broche, étoffe, ode, loge, golfe, volte, philosophe, propre, époque, mot, sot, hôtel, rôti, notre, votre, col, écho, etc.

Medium in homme, comme, somme, pomme, il tonne, je donne, etc.

Dictate o long in the following words:

Tôt, hôte, rose, les dominos, le, la poêle, il rôde; a few Greek words: zone, arôme, atome, hippodrome, idiome, axiome, chrome, atone, tome, gnome, Sodome, amazone, also corps, porc (no c), repos, gros, prévôt, dépot, table d'hôte, alcôve.

Dictate o short in:

Rosée, rôti, dévot, orge, orgue, orme, morgue, madone, Rome, économe, école, solde, vogue, loge, dogme, coffre, noble, opéra, hôpital, bloc, docte.

O has the same sound in eau, au, eaux, aux: tableau, tableaux, château, châteaux, beau, beaux, chapeau, chapeaux, peau, peaux, etc.

Endings in aud, auld, aut, ault, have same sound as o: chaud, La Rochefoucauld, saut, Escaut, Dufault, etc.

Review: S lengthens o in the penultimate: prose, chose, etc.

SS shortens it: brosse, bosse, Brosse, Ecosse: a few exceptions; fosse, grosse, etc.

O long in rose, etc., becomes shorter before masculine syllable: arroser, oser, poser, etc.

O before r or s (sounded) is short: ordre, riposte, poste, postérité, postiche, porter, apporter, rosbif, sorbet, bosquet, etc.

O final is short in the singular: zéro, duo, cacao, dynamo.

§ 31. U is difficult to master at first; by placing s before it you control your lips without moving them, first hissing slowly sü (without parting lips nor rounding them) then more forcibly (always avoiding oo sound), you hear gradually ü on the tip of the tongue, then produce it suddenly as if beginning to hum.

Constant practice with s before ü as if striking the notes on a piano or humming may help you greatly.

NOTE.—Once you control the lips, then practice without s.

U as a, e, i, o is generally short before double consonants: lutte, butte, Russe, Russie, Prusse, Hussard.

U short in past participles: vu, perdu, su, except cru, du, mu, and in dû, crû.

U short in words ending: ue, ume, ul, ulbe, ulpe, uble, ubre, uc, uce, urne; u with s (sounded) juste, buste, etc., or ux, uxe, une, tribune, brume, nul, bulbe, pulpe, chasuble, duc, diurne, luxe, etc.

U long generally with a circumflex: flûte, affût, fût, piqûre, sûr, mûre; also in verbs.

U with plural nouns is long: les ducs, les menus, etc.

Ue always long; cigüe, morue, tortue, statue, vue.

Dictation:

Du, tu, lu, su, nu, parvenu, club, il remuera, parfumerie, dune, unanime, unième, Ruth, minute, il fut, il est rusé, elle est rusée, dur, durée, omnibus, sûr, sur, gageure, eu, la jupe, nous eûmes, étude, la bûche de Noël, etc.

Y (ee)

§ 32. Y was often used at the end of words instead of i and had the same pronunciation.

To-day it is used for an i in words derived from the Greek; and for two i in words strictly French: myriade, gymnase, lyre, style, but ayant (as two i in a few French verbs), in pays, paysage, rayon, crayon, aloyau, payer, etc.

Dictation:

Physique, mystère, Syracuse, Syrie, syllabe, La Fayette, La Haye, Cayenne, Biscaye, Mayence, mayonnaise, analyse, Tyrol, Egypte, gymnastique, cynique, il y a, étymologie, il a payé sa note, Ivry, acolyte, psyché, Babylone, homonymes, Cyrus, Le Puy, Thermopyles, polygone, l'oxygène, les Pyrénées, paronymes, Sylvestre, Bayard, La Bruyère, Sully, Valmy, myope, myosotis, Tyr, Pyrrihus, Yvonne, Yves, Ulysse, Château-Thierry, cyclone, paysan.

Union of Vowels: ae, ao, ea, ai, aie, ey, ei, eai, eau, eo, ie, oeu, eu

§ 33. AE in Caen, Saint-Saëns, the a is silent: kan, sain-sanss.

AO.—O is silent in Laon, faon, paon: an in want (no t) as lan, fan, pan.

AO.—A is silent in août, Saône, taon, but in the verb aoûter a is sounded: oo, sone, ton, in long (no g) and ah-oo-tay.

EA.—e before a softens the g in verbs: il songea, mangea, etc.

§ 34. AI.—4 sounds of ai.

(1) as ay (or é) in verbs; j'ai, je parlai, je chantai, je parlerai, etc.

(2) as e in faisant, nous faisons, satisfaisant.

(3) as è in ais, ait, aie, aies, aient (verb endings) or nouns ais, ait, aix, aïd, air, etc. J'avais, tu avais, il avait, que j'aie, que tu aies, qu'il ait, qu'ils aient. In plaie, maison, maître, air, clair, éclair, chaise, paire, palais, Anglais, Français, Écossais, lait, s'il vous plaît, parfait, parfaite, aile, vrai, vraie, but not in gaie or je sais.

(4) as â in douairière, Montaigne. Larousse says: Montagne or tègne. L'abbé Rousselot says: dwèryèr as Larousse.

AIE.—Is long and open sound of è (grave); raie, futaie, etc.

EY.—In whiskey has e open: è, also in bey, Guernesey, Jersey, Brueys (bru-ess), Talleyrand-Périgord: tal-è-ran. In other cases generally e acute: Ceylan, asseyez-vous, etc.

EI.—As è grave: reine, Seine, seigle, seize, treize, beige, peigne, etc.

EAI.—As é acute in je voyageai, mangeai, jugeai, also in geai.

In démangeaison and eais, eait, eaient (verbs), has open sound of e: je mangeais, tu mangeais, il mangeait, ils mangeaient.

EAU.—As ô in English: beau, chapeau, etc.

NOTE.—AU is short in Paul, aussi, aussitôt, paupière, augmenter, austère, Austerlitz, Haussmann, aurora, sauf, but long in saue, in other words au initial or medial is long before feminine syllable and in endings aux.

Combined Vowels

§ 35. EO.—In geôle, géôlier, flageolet, rougeole, Georges, the g is soft and e is silent.

IE final, e is silent: partie, sortie, also in je prierai, supplierai, etc.

§ 36. EU, ŒU has 4 sounds of eu: eu, oeu, oe in œil, in endings ueil.

Eu as e in jeune.

EU, ŒU (i in sir).—To avoid the sounds of e as in le, de, ce, you advance the lips while rounding them with the help of s in sir (no r sound), you explode the long, upward eu, the lower lip slightly downward. Practice first with s, then other consonants.

Eu is closed in peu, feu, chartreuse, berceuse, Meuse, deux, or plural endings: yeux, ceux; œufs and bœufs (fs silent), bleu, bleus, bleue, lieu, lieu, jeûner, déjeuner.

Eu open in seul, fleuve, œuvre, fleur, neuf, heure, beurre, plusieurs, ailleurs.

Eu medium in heureux, Europe, generally before a sonorous syllable.

Eu is u in eu (avoir), eue in gageure, j'eus, tu eus, il eut, nous eûmes, vous eûtes, ils eurent, que j'eusse, que tu eusses, qu'il eût, que nous eussions, que vous eussiez, qu'ils eussent.

EUR in monsieur: me-si-eu, or in the plural.

ŒU as eu: œuf, næud, sœur, cœur, chœur, etc.

OE: eu in Goethe; in other cases is é acute:

Œdipe, œsophage, œcuménique.

OU

§ 37. Ou as oo in English: tout, sou, boue, atout, loup, ou, où, boule, Louvre, rouge; advance lips while rounding them.

OU medium in courte, langouste, bourse, source, bouc, croûte, outre, coupe, troupe, mousse, pousse, ouf!, bouche, foule, trouble, oubli.

Diphthongs: oi, ui, oui and oë

§ 38. OI was used frequently in the imperfect and conditional: j'avais, je dirois, also in foible, roide, harnois, etc.

To-day ai is used instead of above examples.

OI (o-a, long o with short a), in moi, toi, soi, loi, foi, roi, froid, trois, mois, pois, etc.

OI medium in voix, choix, une fois, Gaulois, je dois, bourgeois, etc.

Oï open in poivre, coiffeur, turquoise, bourgeoise, boire, soir, poire, noir; in endings oive: que je recoive, etc.

OI in oignon, poigne, poignard, the i is silent.

OI in roide, roideur, roidir, we write now raide (rè-de), etc.

Oä sound in moelle; oä long in poêle.

UI (u-i)

§ 39. U is very long, then part the lips for ɪ: lui, luisant, luire, fuir, suivre, cuivre, Juif, juive, cuisine, cuir, suisse, suite, suivi, suicide, suie, truite, les Tuileries.

UI in a few words with g: gu-i in le duc de Guise, aiguille (ay-gu-ee-ye), aiguiser, in other cases ui is not a diphthong: qui, guitare, guide, Guy, quitte, etc.

OUI

- § 40. OUI (õ-i) in Louis, Louise, jouir, réjouir, oui, joui, réjoui, éblouir, ébloui, ouïr, etc.
-ouille, final in many words: (oo-eëye) houille, fouille, rouille, grenouille, etc.

Dictation on Diphthongs (omitting nasal vowels which will be our next study):

aïel, bourgeois, la Pléiade, je priai, le fabliau, plie, pied, prière, Dieu, violier, chiourme, piano, ionique, diurne, boa, Noailles, moelle, poêle, roi, Edouard, Douai, rastaquouère, roué, nouveux, Louise, fouine, suave, Suétone, Bossuet, ils suèrent, Samuel, lueur, fruit, yacht, hyène.

VI.—Voyelles Nasales

Voyelles nasales (nasal vowels) are only four: an, en; in, ein, ain, en; on, om; un, eun. Others can be classified under this division.

NOTE.—Diphthongs may become nasal; viande, Vienne, lion, point, Roanne, louange, Rouen, marsoûin, trouons, Juan, juin, exduons.

Double m or n weakens the nasal sounds.

- § 41. An, am, en, em generally as an in want.
§ 42. In, im, ain, aim, yn, ym, ein as an in anger (no g sound).
§ 43. On, om as on in long.
§ 44. Un, um are more difficult. Un like the colloquial nasalized sound er often used for "what?" between children, when they wish anything repeated.

Nasal vowel: an

§ 45. After having reviewed the simple vowels and their union we will study the same vowels when they are nasalized with n or m in the same syllable.

Nasalized Vowel Sounds: an, am (aen), en, em; in, im, ain, aim, ein, eim, yn, ym; on, om; un, um, eun; their nasal quality is produced only when those nasal vowels are followed by a different consonant or at the end of a word.

NOTE.—Followed by another n, or m, the latter destroys the nasal quality.

Few words are exceptions: ennui, ennuyer, emmener, ennoblir, remmener, emmagasiner; also in enivrer, enorgueillir, where em or en are nasal.

AN. Open the mouth as if to pronounce a broad, then explode a long nasal resonance under the roof of the mouth.

NOTE.—No g sound in an, etc. Practice first with san (an in want), then prolong san, san, repeatedly, till an comes naturally.

Fran(c), ban(c), blan(c), plan, danse, lance, gran(d), savan(t), Alleman(d), an, dan(s), ran(g), san(g).

An is ann in few English words: alderman, policeman, etc.

AN followed by a, e, i, o, u, y is not nasal: âne, platane; or h silent, sanhédrin (sa-né-drin).

AN is nasal in 20 ways: aen, an, anc, and, ang, ans, ant, ants, aon, ean, em, emp, emps, empt, en, end, ens, ent, han, hen.

AN is a-n in année, anneau, canne, Jeanne, Lausanne.

AN not nasal in manne (long â): in annoter, annexe, annales, annuaire, annuité, annuler, an is weak.

AEN like an, in Caen, Saint-Saëns (sanss).

§ 46. EN (as an)

EN also -ent, end like an in enfant, Rouen, vente, Saint-Ouen, science, patience, patient, différend.

ENT is an in adjectives, nouns and adverbs.

Exceptions.—en with n is not nasal: nenni, hennir, solennel; as na-ni, a-nir, so-la-nel.

EN as an open e in many words (enn or ienn): Ardennes, Etienne, la mienne, la tienne, la sienne (in the plural also), ils viennent, ils tiennent, etc.

EN as in in Benjamin, agenda, examen, sensorium, pentagone, la Pentateuque, appendice, benzine, Mentor, Penthievre, Agen.

NOTE.—ien is i-in in bien, rien, mien, tien, sien, je viens, tu viens, il vient, je tiens, tu tiens, il tient, je viendrai, tu viendras, il viendra, tiendrais, -as, -a, etc.; also in many French names or foreign names ending in -ien or éen: Julien, Vendéen, Enghien (an-ghin).

EN as enn in amen, abdomen, hymen, pollen, spécimen, and other foreign words.

NOTE.—Hymen as in and enn; as it is doubtful.

ENT. In verbs (third pers. plural), n is silent but t may be linked. Ils aiment à jouer.

§ 47. AM

AM followed by a vowel is not nasal; âme, Américain, amitié, ami, amour, amuser.

AM final is sounded in Abraham, Cham, Priam, etc.

Exceptions: Adam, quidam, dam; a-dan, etc.

AM followed by n or m is as m in amnistie, etc., damner and its derivatives are excepted: da-nay, etc.

AM before b or p always nasal: ambulance, amputation, etc.

AM before me, ma, mo is not nasal when medial: épigramme, gramme; also in adverbs, constamment, etc.

MM is heard in grammaire, grammaticale, grammatiste.

§ 48. EM

EM is a in femme, and adverbs: prudemment, récemment, etc.

EM is e open in Emma, dilemme, ad rem.

EM is an in emmagasiner, emmener.

EMB or EMP initial or medial, the em is an in most words: empire, tempête, temps, emblème, Luxembourg, etc.

EM in a few words is ain as in sempiternel, Rembrandt (Larousse says ran-bran).

EM is emm final or medial: item, Jérusalem, décemvir, also in inlemne: in-dem-ne.

EM followed by vowel is heard separately: semer (se-mer), remords, etc.

§ 49. IN

IN as an in anger. Practice first with s in avoiding g sound, then repeatedly: sin, s-in as if striking the keys on a piano.

NOTE.—The back part of the tongue slightly approaches the soft palate.

For practice pronounce the following words: vin, serein, seing, teint, pain, saint, faim, je crains, tu crains, il craint, je teins, tu teins, il teint, je vaincs, tu vaincs, il vainc, Reims, thym, syntaxe, il vint, instinct, vingt, or vingts, cinq (francs), tu vins, Charles-Quint.

Je tiens, tu tiens, il tient, rien, impossible, Vendéen, Européen, Mentor.

IN is not nasal before vowels or h mute: Chine, cuisine, inexact, inhumain.

IN is nasal followed by any other consonant than n: vingt, intérêt, in-folio.

IN is i in innocence and derivatives -ment, -ter, innocent.

INN sounded in innover, -ation, innombrable.

§ 50. IM

IM is nasal when followed by any other consonant than m: simple, timbre, etc.

IM not nasal between two vowels: i-ma-ge, centime.

IMM is imm when initial: immortel, immeuble, etc.

IM (m) is ain in a few words: immesurable, imm or ain in immanquable, immangeable.

IM is not nasal at the end of a few foreign words: intérim, Grimm.

§ 51. AIN, AIM

AIN final is nasal: pain, saint, maint.

AIN is ène before vowels: haine, saine.

AIM is nasal in faim, daim, etc.

AIM is ème in aimant, j'aime.

§ 52. YN, YM

YN, YM are nasal in many words: syntaxe, symbole, syndic, synthèse, symptôme, etc.

YN, YM not nasal between vowels: synagogue, dynastie, homonyme, or before n, gymnase, etc.

§ 53. ON, OM, OMB, OMP

ON, OM long in sombre, pompe, aplomb, Colomb (no b).

ON, OM short in mon, ton, son, nom, surnom, prénom.

NOTE.—one, ome long: Saône, Rhône, zone, atome, etc.

ON, ONT, OND, ONS, ONC long: bronze, bonté, bond, ayons, donc, jonc.

ON, OM not nasal before a vowel or m or n: Bonaparte, donner, comment, Rome, automne (m silent).

§ 54. UN, UM, HUM

UN, UM, UN(D), UN(T) nasal: un, parfum, lundi, humble, défunt.

UM is om in Latin or English words: humbug, pensum, possum, rumsteck, or romsteck, album, rhum.

NOTE.—Um is on nasal in Humbert; also un is on: de profundis, punch, secundo, jungle, etc.

UN, UM, before a vowel, not nasal: une, parfumerie, etc.

UN is u-n in tunnel (tu-nell).

§ 55. VII.—Consonants and their Pronunciation

B is labial and heard softly: be.

C is explosive before a, o, u and pronounced k: ka, ko, ku; the c with cedilla before a, o, u is s: sa, so, su.

C followed by e, i, y is pronounced s.

D is lingual and dental: de.

F labial: fe.

G lingual and palatal is soft before e or i: ge.

Gue called hard g before a, o, u is voiced strongly: ga, go, gu.

H slightly audible when aspirate is guttural in a few words: he.

J identical with soft g: je and before any vowel.

K used only in a few words is explosive and back palatal: ke.

You must breathe hard upon the vowel.

L (sonorous, prolonged tongue-point sound): le.

M labial and nasal sound with lips pressed together: me.

N (nasal dental sound): ne.

Any vowel followed by two consonants of which the first is m or n vibrates in the nose and is called nasal vowel.

P labial and explosive: pe; two p's are voiced as one p and PH (classical origin) is heard as f.

Que. The q is usually followed by u and is explosive: ke.

R (classical r) has a vibration more or less prolonged from the tip of the tongue and upper front teeth: re.

In Paris this sound is preferred in singing and elocution.

R (the re modern or grasseyé) is uttered under the roof of the mouth without any help from the tip of the tongue.

NOTE.—The L and R are often liquefied because they run smoothly with other consonants such as b, c, g, p.

S is sonant or buzzing in rose, surd or continuable in gratis.

This sibilant or hissing sound is frequent in French. As if to whistle we press the tip of the tongue against the teeth: se.

T when explosive has a front-lingual or tongue-tip sound: te.

V has a fricative or continuous labial sound in: ve.

W is not a French letter; in some English words it is pronounced oo or v: in German words as v.

X has no sound by itself: it has the sound of s in Bruxelles, dix, six; of z in dix-sept, dix-huit, dix-neuf; of c in exception; of g in exact, exode, etc.; of ks in lux, etc.

Z is a sonant sibilant like s in rose: ze.

Ch is k in Christ, choléra, chrétien, etc., and sh in machine, cher, chapeau, etc.; silent in almanach.

Gn (lingual and palatal) is heard g-n in stagnant, agnosticisme, Agnus; gn initial is aspirated in gnostique, gnome; gn medial is generally ni in union: the tip of the tongue is at rest while the back part of the tongue adheres firmly to the roof of the mouth. The sudden separation produces the sound of gne as in Champagne, signe, Allemagne, etc.

Few Consonants

B, c, d, g, p, t, called consonnes momentanées, are pronounced sharply; in poetry they may be used to express noise or anger:

Dors-tu content, Voltaire, et ton hideux sourire, etc.

§ 56. M and N

like the nasal vowels are lengthened and produce a soft quality: maman.

§ 57. L (ll liquid) is an old appellation now rendered by ye short; these liquids, as the name implies, tend to unite with other consonants.

VIII.—Syllables

Spelling: monsieur may be spelled: m(em) on (en) = mon s (ess) i=si (and) e (er) ũ-r = (air) but pronounced: mə-si-ø.

Division of Syllables: a consonant (or two) plus the vowel: pa-pa; pré-po-si-tion; o-pé-ra; i-nu-ti-le; la-bleau; in-sen-si-bi-li-té; res-pon-sa-bi-li-té; don-ner (first n not heard); homme for o-m, h being silent and last e unstressed; ins-tru-ment; per-dre; sug-gé-rer = (süg-ſe-re); di-gni-té; stag-nant; tra-va-ill-er = (tra-va-je); a-che-ter but heard ash-te; che-veux (shfø); che-vaux (shfo); che-val (shfal).

NOTE.—Double consonants are generally heard as one and the last belongs to the following vowel or sound: al-ler = (a-ler), in-no-cent for i-no-cent; few exceptions to the rule: im-mor-tel, gram-maire; also: chercher (cher-cher); an er in the body of a French word is never heard: urr but air; servir, per-dre, chère, etc.

§ 58. F and V (Spirants)

§ 59. S, Z, CH, J (fricative, continuous)

S and Z of frequent use in French require as a starting point of articulation a hissing sound capable of expressing strong feelings.

§ 60. B

maintains nearly always its articulation. Few exceptions: Lefebvre, Colomb, plomb as b is silent.

§ 61. C

C before a, o, u is ka, ko, ku.

Ç before a, o, u, is sa, so, su.

C before e, i, y is se, si.

C is g in second and kz in Czar; also Tsar.

C at the end of the word is k: Languedoc.

NOTE.—C silent in croc, accroc, marc, porc.

C in ac like ak, except in estomac, tabac.

C final is k: sec, avec, but not in échecs.

C final in ic (ik): silent in cric, not in cric crac.

C final in uc is uk: Luc.

C final heard in -inc, -euc, -ouc, except in caoutchouc.

C preceded by s, l, r is heard generally: arc, etc., but not in clerc, marc, porc.

Ch is gh in drachme, k in chœur, but silent in almanach.

Ch like sh in most ordinary words: chemise, machine.

D final is heard in proper names: David, not in Gounod.

D silent in endings -rd: Edouard; -and: Allemand. Also in -ond, Edmond; -aud, Renaud; -oud, St. Cloud.

In adjectives, verbs or adverbs: second, froid, sied, quand.

D final is heard as t in liaisons: grand ami.

§ 63. F (PH)

F initial as in English: fil (fiss), fête, etc.

F is v in liaisons: neuf amis (neu-vami), neuf hommes, etc.
But not before months: neuf/août. Some Parisians say: neuf/amis.

F is silent in chef d'œuvre (shè-deuvr), œufs, bœufs, cerfs, nerfs, cerf-volant, bœufgras.

§ 64. G

G is j before e, i, y; gilet, voyage, gymnase.

NOTE.—In some foreign words g is hard: Gibbons, etc.

G hard before a, o, ou, u: garçon, gondole, goujon, virgule; also before the other consonants except n.

NOTE.—In Italian words ghetto, etc.; in Engkien, ghien is ghin.

GN (liquid) in most words: tip of the tongue inactive while the back part of it adheres closely to the roof of the mouth, and then their sudden separation produces a French gne.

Ex. signe, vigne, signer, régner.

G-N divided in Agnus, diagnostique, cognition, cognition, gnome, igné, physiognomie, inexpugnable, récognition, stagnante.

GUE, GUA, GUer, as ghe, gha, ghé in blague, blagua, blaguer, longue, longueur, etc.

GUI (ghee) in gui, guide, guider, Guy, anguille, guillotiné, guillemet.

NOTE.—In arguer (gu-er), Guise, aiguille and its derivatives, linguiste, g-u is separated in Vogüé; also in lingual (goo-al), Guadeloupe, Guatemala, équateur, équation, Quaker, quantum, quartz, quatuor.

Gueu (gheu) in gueux, fougueux, etc.

G silent in vingt, legs, Luxembourg, sang, bourg, long, coing, étang, faubourg, hareng, rang, seing, Regnard, but is linked as k: long espoir.

G is hard in second, seconde, secondaire, seconder, instead of c.

§ 65. H

H aspirate at page 49. The h aspirate is never heard in literary French. It merely prevents elision: la/haine, les/héros, etc.

H medial is generally silent: le rhume, l'arithmétique, isthme, Goth, Visigoth, asthme, also in Macbeth, Ruth.

NOTE.—In the following cases, the liaison is not possible. O is (h) o in le/oui, le/onze, la/ouate, le, or la/onsième, also in le/un, le/yard, le/yacht, le/yatagan.

CH is sh in chose, chirurgie, chat, chasser, Achille, archidiacre, chimère, architecte, schisme, schéma; schooner [skooner], etc.

CH is k in chaos, lichen, chiromancie, archiépiscopal, chrétien, choléra, Chaldéen, Christ, Bacchus, Cham, choeur, Michel-Ange, loch, Rock, Munich.

NOTE.—CH is silent in almanach.

PH is f: philosophie, Joseph, phtisie, etc.

Emm is a-m in adverbs: prudemment, etc., and in femme.

NOTE.—Not in dilemme, gemme, lemme, Emma, etc.

M (see nasal vowels) is nasal when final: nom, prénom, surnom, pronom, parfum, etc.

§ 70. N

N (see nasal vowels) initial or between vowels is n: neuf, Canada, Panama.

NOTE.—Enivrer and derivatives are exceptions.

N in ent, 3d pers. plural is silent, but t may be linked: ils aiment à rire, ils expédient, etc.

N in nouns, adjectives, adverbs is nasal: vent, patient, vraiment, moment, souvent, expédient, etc.

N in bien and rien may be linked: bien écrire, ne rien ajouter.

N nasal followed by any other consonant: encre, étang, chant, etc.

NOTE.—See nasal vowels when weak, short, long.

N in en is a: solennel and derivatives, hennir, nenni.

N in en is heard in a few words: amen, abdomen, Eden, etc.

N nasal is linked with following word beginning with h or vowel:
en ami, en écrivant, mon ami, ton ami, son ami.

NOTE.—In liaisons it is preferable to say: bo-nami instead of bon ami or bon na-mi.

NN may or may not be sounded as double consonants.

NN is n in donner, je donne, il tonne, etc. The nasal sound is weak.

Enn initial is an long: ennui, ennoblir and derivatives.

NOTE.—Enn is ënn in ennemi.

Remarks on the linking of n. It is linked when two words are closely connected in meaning: mon enfant, etc., but not in c'est bon à manger.

Ce livre n'est pas bien écrit, but not in: ce bien est à lui.

J'en ai un, not in donnez-lui en un.

On entend, en ont-ils, vous en avez, etc.

L'un et l'autre, not in un et un font deux.

Je n'ai rien acheté, but not in: vous ne devez rien à personne.

NN doubled is n in année, innocent, ennemi, anniversaire, annoncer; in other cases it is ann: annuel, etc.

NOTE.—Ennui, ennoblir, innommé: long nasal.

N in verbs 3rd pers. singular is an in ment, but ee-ain in vient, tient, soutient, etc., le sien, le mien, le tien; except in the feminine singular and plural: la mienne, les tiennes, and in viennent, etc.

N in monsieur silent: me-sieu.

N in -yen: moyen, doyen, as i-ien (see bien, rien).

P medial before a dental is silent: anabaptisme, -iste, baptême, -iser, -ismal, -istaire, -iste, -istère, cep de vigne (cep before a vowel), cheptel, comptabilité, comptable, comptant, compte, -er, -eur, -able, dompter, -able, -eur, exempt, -er, sculpter, -é, -eur, -ural, -ure, sept, -ième.

NOTE.—accepter, excepter and derivatives the p is heard; also in adoptif, -ion, captieux, rédempteur, -ion, reptile, septante, -ième, -embre, -envir, -ennaire, -ennal, -entrion, -al, -uagénnaire, -égisme.

Assomption, corruption, sceptique, relaps, biceps, symptôme, présomptif, somptueux, hapsodie, impromptu, the p is sounded.

P in trop, beaucoup is linked with little stress: beaucoup aimé.

P. P. C. means pour prendre congé.

NOTE.—P is sounded in Gap, jalap, julep, cap; p in camp, champ, drap, sirop, is silent always.

PP is one p: j'ai appris ma leçon (a-pri).

PH (aspirated in Greek) is heard in French as f: phare, etc.

§ 73. Q

Q is always followed by u: que, qui, quoique, quel, quelle, quelque, quelquefois, etc.

NOTE.—Q final is sounded in cinq, cog; q in cinq is silent before nouns beginning h aspirate or a consonant: cinq héros, cinq livres. Before months the q is k: le cinq décembre or in cinq pour cent (5%), etc. Before a vowel or h mute q in cinq is k: cinq élèves, etc.; also in le cinq de trèfle, etc.

The q silent in cog d'Inde.

QU may be koo, ke, ki, ku: aquatique (a-koo-ah-tik); ke or ki in que, qui; ku or k in équestre (é-ku-estr or ékestr).

QU is koo initial in quadragénaire, -gésimal, -gésime, -ngulaire, -trice, -ture, -ifide, -latéral, -syllabe, -umane, -pède, -ple, -pler, quaker, quantum, quassia, quater, ternaire, -erne, quatuor, and a few others.

Qu initial is ka in quadrille, quai, qualité, and derivatives, quand, quant, quantième, quantité, quarantaine, quarante, and derivatives, quart, -ier, quasi, -modo, quatorze, -ième, quatre, -ième, -ment.

QU is ki in qui, quidam, quiconque, quille, quinine, quittance and derivatives, qui-vive? inquisition, inquiet, with derivatives, aquilon, liquide, coquille, marquis, -e, etc.

QUIN initial is kain in quinze, -aine, quintal, quinte, quintessence and derivatives; quincaille and derivatives; quinconce, Charles-Quint, quinteux, St. Thomas d'Aquin.

Quin in other words is ku-in: quintuple, Quinquagésime, etc.

Qu in verbs is k: fabriquer, marquer, embarquer, étiqueter, qualifier, quereller, liquéfier, and in nouns derived from them: fabrique, marque, embarquement, étiquette, qualité, querelle, liqueur, etc.

§ 74. R

R. In elocution and in singing the Parisians require the classical r or the r trilled very forward on the tip of the tongue near the upper teeth and caused by pressure of air.

R (re moderne) tip of the tongue touches roof of the mouth while tongue is inactive and soft palate moves forward.

It is the Parisian r: grasseyé.

It is palatal not throaty.

Molière explains the classical r in le Bourgeois Gentilhomme: «en portant le bout de la langue jusqu'au bout du palais, de sorte qu'étant frôlée par l'air qui sort avec force, elle lui cède et revient toujours au même endroit, faisant une manière de tremblement.»

R final is heard after a, i, o, u and sometimes after e: par, finir, trésor, pur, amer, Jupiter, cuiller, etc.

NOTE.—Monsieur (me-si-eu).

R in -er (verbs of 1st conj.) is é acute: parler, aimer, etc.

R in -er final is heard preceded by ch, f, v, m: cher, mer, fer, ver; also in hier, hiver, fier (proud), vers, envers, divers, -ers, -ert; in verbs: je conquiers, Thiers, tiers; in foreign proper names: Luther, rue Auber, Schiller, Quaker, etc.

R or er(s) is é in French towns: Angers, Poitiers, Alger, Montpellier; also French proper names: Boulanger, Cuvier and generally in common nouns: cocher, boulanger, boucher, rocher, pommier, etc.

NOTE.—In polysyllabic nouns (or adjectives in -ier) same rule: officier, teinturier, entier, particulier, etc.

RR medial is as one r: interroger, terre, beurre, leurre, etc.

NOTE.—Rr is heard in correct, -ion, corroborer, corrosif; in errer, errant, erreur, erroné, horrible, horreur, torrent; in future of verbs: courir, mourir, acquérir; je courrai, etc., also in irr initial: irriter, irrégulier, etc.

ER initial (never sounded urr but air) in syllables: erg, erm, ert, -inter-, perc-, perd-, perf-, pers-, pert-, serg-, serp-, sert-, serv-, verm-, vert-, verv-.

NOTE.—This simple rule covers many words and should be specially noted.

R in conversation with verbs of 1st conjugation is not linked: aimer/à chanter; in reading, poetry, or public speaking the r is linked before a vowel or h mute; aimer à chanter, etc.

RH (h is purely etymological) is r: rhume, rhéteur, etc.

§ 75. S

S initial before c, ch, ci is not heard in scène, schisme, scie, schelling (she-lain), schéma, sceptre, sceau, etc., also in descendre, but is heard in ascendance, ascension, etc.

S is z between two vowels: rose, prose, raser, présence, usage, etc.

NOTE.—S is z in Alsace, -icien, transaction, -iger, transi, -ir, transit, -taire, -itif, -ition, -itoire, -alpin, -atlantique, balsamique.

S is not z in: monosyllable, désuétude, parasol, polysyllabe, préséance, présupposer, vraisemblable, tournesol, soubresaut, Lesage, Lasalle.

S is sounded in scorpion, scandale, squelette, statue, scorbut, etc.

Also in the following words: gratis, bis, atlas, ès, hélas, hiatus, fil, jadis, lis (not in fleur de lis), prospectus, blocus, chorus, typhus, mœurs (or no s), oasis, omnibus, Vénus, lapis, gens, os, sens, ours, us, tous (pronoun), Mars, Ruy Blas.

NOTE.—In linking the s of foreign words, the s (not as z) is heard: Vénus est admirable as (Vé-nus sé tad-mi-ra-ble); le fils est aimable. In other words than the above words the s, x, z are linked as z:

Ex. Les amis, deux à deux, allez à la banque.

S final heard only in connecting next word beginning with a vowel or h mute has the sound of z: moins âgé.

S is generally silent in endings of French names: François, Doubs, Duclos, Amiens, St. Denis, Villars; also in common words: trois, vers, pas, pays, plus, alors, dans, sous, gros, gras, jus, bois, buis, dépens, débris, près, cas, cours, mais, tapis, roulis, avis, dès, pis, palais, paradis, précis, procès, tas, tracas, tiers, souris, lors, congrès, coloris, corps, depuis, niais, refus, tamis, mois, jamais, fois, exprès, colis, las, poids, souris, repos, repas, ramas, radis, puis.

NOTE.—Exceptions: Brest, Malesherbes (mal-zairb), Robespierre, Gaston, Boiste.

Final s sounded in Reims (Anvers with or without s), Sieyès (si-é-yess), Sens, Saint-Saëns (sanss), Mons, Lesseps, Clovis, Brueys (bru-èss); in Latin and Greek words: Fabius, Léonidas; in fact words ending in -is, -us, -os, -as, -ns, -ms, -rs, from Greek, Latin, German and Spanish sources.

NOTE.—S not sounded in Londres, Athènes, Paris, Orléans, etc.

SS the last is always heard sharply and the first gives usually an open sound: essence (è-sence), confesser, paresse, etc.; in ass, iss, oss, uss only the second s sounded: assister, lisse, Ecosse, Russie, etc.

NOTE.—Vowels are short then, except in fosse, grosse, lasse (adj. f.).

S medial after or before other consonants is hard s: conspirer, conscience, converser, lorsque, puisque, etc.

NOTE.—See exceptions under S as z. Many prefer s sound in transi de froid; as in transe, transept, transférer, Transylvanie, Pensylvanie (pain-seel).

Oss initial the ss heard: ossature, osseux, etc.

§ 76. Important Remarks on s

In le Christ, l'est, l'ouest, plus-que-parfait, Antéchrist, psst! (interjection), in plus (counting), il y a plus, deux de plus, bien plus, en plus, 5 francs plus dix centimes, vous avez reçu plus que moi, A plus B, tous as a pronoun; venez tous, filz, hélas, bachelier-ès-lettres, le sens, le lis the s is sounded.

S not heard in plus petit, plus grand, etc., tous les enfants (adjective), sens commun, sens dessus dessous, sens devant derrière.

Also in œufs (eu), bœufs, nerfs (nair), serfs, Jésus-Christ (kree), les ours, les os, échecs (è or é), les gens maladifs (s in gens is heard before vowels or h mute) and tandis que where s is unheard.

OS sounded in the singular: l'os; les os (o).

Ours (ourss) un ours instead of the old pronunciation oor.

NOTE.—The latter preferred in reading to avoid cacophony or ambiguity.

Fils is fiss, sometimes fee in poetry or by aged persons.

Obus is obu by the soldiers; often sounded as z.

Us as uss, les us et coutumes.

S in mœurs is more frequently sounded.

S not heard in est: il est.

S is heard in dix, six (isolated).

S when final and silent is linked as z: dans une heure.

S when final and uttered is linked as ss: le fils est aimable. Vénus admirable.

NOTE.—One hears l'ours/affamé (loorss af-fa-mé), but, les ours affamés (lay zour za-fa-mé).

Plural adjectives followed by a noun the s is linked as z: les grands hommes; in nouns having the plural form and followed by an adjective, the s is usually not linked: un discours/éloquent, un mépris/inutile; in the plural, of course, s is z: des discours amusants, etc.

Same rule before verbs, adverbs or subjects: son mépris/est ridicule, le paradis/où vous irez, quel secours/on me donne! because the sense does not require it and a pause is made.

But we say naturally: des jours heureux (joor-zeu-reux) in nouns (plural) followed by an adjective or adjectives with nouns: ses aimables enfants. In conversation the liaisons are often omitted, specially by children.

Special rules will be given after studying t, x, z.

§ 77. T (th)

T and TH initial sound as t: temps, terre, thé, théâtre; about 70 words begin with th.

T final generally silent: tant, autant, nuit, minuit, tout, gratuit, etc.

NOTE.—Te final syllable of feminine adjectives is heard: toute, gratuite, petite, prompte, etc., as in nouns minute, flûte, butte, etc.

T is not sounded in Montréal, Montmartre, Pontmartin, Pont-Neuf, etc.

TI or tie may or may not sound as tee.

NOTE.—When the medial t in English is sh or s, it is soft in French.

Ex.—Action, imitation, friction, supposition (-see-on).

When medial or final t is not sh, or cy as a sound (English) then the t is natural in French: parti, partie, dynastie, question; on that principle read tie as s in the following: aristocratie, autocratie, balbutie, calvétique, démocratie, diplomatie, facétie, inertie, ineptie, impéritie, minutie, prophétie, primatie, péripétie, suprématie, théocratie.

But tie as tee: antipathie, garantie, modestie, partie, sortie, sympathie, Claretie, etc.

-TIONS in verbs always tee-on: nous portions, nous notions, etc.

NOTE.—In nouns les portions, les notions, as s. The only nouns when t is dental (t) are the following exceptions: question, bastion, combustion, mixture, suggestion, gestion.

Tial, tiel or tieux as see-al, see-ell: partial, essentiel, captieux.

Bestial is an exception.

ITI is as s in initial, except in itinéraire, moitié, pitié, and nouns in itié.

TT as t: attentif (a-ten-tif).

T final is not heard in et, chat, rat, alphabet, cent, fort, concert, fort, effet, cabinet, biscuit, art, billet, bouquet, bosquet, Mahomet, tort, quart, pot, portrait, aspect, respect, suspect, instinct, succinct (but not in distinct), nor in verb endings: parlant, parlent; il vient, ils viennent, ils ont, ils sont, ils font, etc.

TI hard before a consonant: partir, actif, etc.

TI in prefixes hard in anti, centi, antipathie, centimètre.

Also in ti final or tien: le parti, il est sorti, le tien, chrétien.

Exceptions in proper names: Donatien, Dioclétien, or their derivatives: vénitien, also satiété, insatiable, initier, balbutier, différentier.

T is sounded in tact, accessit, abject, brut, chut, contact, correct, cel, déficit, dot, direct, exact, mat, est, ouest, rut, vivat, prétérit strict, toast, Christ (no t in Jésus-Christ), huit, sept, transit, and a few others.

TH is t in Luth, Ruth, Macbeth, Seth, Elisabeth, thé, athée, théâtre, sénith, athlète, apathie, sympathie, etc.

As s in Chrestomathie (or tee).

TZ is ess in Metz.

T in liaisons: ET is never linked: Pierre et Ernest.

SEPT the t is heard in months, in interest: le sept décembre, le sept pour cent (7%), or before a vowel or h mute: sept hommes, sept amis. In other cases not sounded or linked: sept/femmes (sè), sept/héros (sè).

HUIT same rule as sept: le huit novembre, le huit du mois, huit enfants, huit huitres.

VINGT from 21 to 30 the t is heard: vingt et un, and is linked. From 81 to 90 the t is silent.

NOTE.—The t after c and r is not heard and the c or r are linked: Respect humain, un respect absolu, à tort et à travers.

Fort the t of fort (adverb) is always linked as t: fort en histoire, fort habile, etc.

Avant-hier the t is linked.

ENT in plural verbs, although nt are silent, the t is linked: ils partent ensemble.

D often linked as t: quand il est venu.

Cent un no t (101). In adding, the t is heard.

§ 78. V

V is constant as v: veuf, veuve, vol, avoir, savoir, etc.

NOTE.—F is linked as v: neuf hommes, neuf enfants.

VV may be seen in some old French inscriptions.

VV as W are to-day seen only in French words of foreign origin.

W is v in wagon-lit, wagon-poste, -restaurant, Wesphalie, and in German words.

W is oo in whist, whisky, wattman, warrant, whiskey as in English.

§ 79. X

Sixteen words begin with x.

X in the plural of nouns is silent: tableaux, beaux, etc.

Over one thousand words contain x which has no sound of its own: X initial is ks, gz, or K; X medial is ks or z; x final is either silent, or heard as Xe, S, ce or z in liaisons.

As Gz in Xénophon, Xavier, Xerxès; as K in Xérès.

Ex or Hex (initial) as gz before a vowel or h: exercice, exiger, hexamètre. Exceptions: exécrer, and its derivatives uttered as ks.

EX as gz (in 7 words) with the prefix in: inexercé, inexact, inexaucé, inexécuter, inexigible, inexistant, inexorable.

INEX as ks in inexcitable, -excusable, -pérence, -piable, -pié, -plicable, -ploité, -ploré, -pressif, -primable, -pugnable, -tensible, -tricable and derivatives.

Paris/est une belle ville c'est un avis/important il est 3 heures/et demie des vers/à soie

 vers les/une heure

NOTE.—Avoid repetitions of linking the s or z as proper pauses must be made:

la leçon des autres enfants/est trop longue (see S).

as t very frequent:

adverbs: fort intéressant

verbs: ils ont acheté ont-ils vu?

T in et never linked:

Paul et/un ami

Adjective and noun or object:

prêt à sortir

charmant homme

Verb and subject and object with or without et:

que dit-on?

il faut étudier

en allant à la banque

ils allaient et venaient

Adverbs with et or ou:

librement et joyeusement

tôt ou tard

NOTE.—(t) final and silent not linked:

un attentat/odieux

(rt) t generally silent:

il est fort/et grand la Mort/a décimé son armée

Robert/a eu la leçon

un expert/en architecture

la plupart/ont le mal de mer

§ 98. X

as z: six ans dix hommes

dix sept

NOTE.—Not in dix/livres, six/hauteurs, etc. (see § 76).

§ 99. Z

as z: ceux et celles vous avez écrit, etc.

But not in:

nez à nez portez armes présentez armes nez aquilin

Remarks on Liaisons

§ 100. The liaisons affect the final f, g, s, x specially in bœuf, coq, sens, cinq, six, sept, huit, neuf, dix according to the rules set forth previously.

But the normal liaisons in the articles, nouns, adjectives, etc., are sometimes optional, sometimes unpermissible.

In eloquence, elocution, and poetry the liaisons are more required than in conversation; they may be observed but not multiplied. The ear must also be pleased, not shocked.

les huitres but not in le/huit, les/huit l'ouïe but not in le/oui et le non il est/huit heures
Jean/est sérieux
Jeanne est jolie J'en ai un le sud et l'est (as d) le nord et l'ouest mais/oui

vingt et un, but not in le chat/et le chien

When the liaisons are too close we must pause at least after the verb to avoid discordant sounds:

vous nous avez avertis/en allant à l'hôtel

Children often omit the liaisons of s, t, d, x, z.

§ 101. (1) Strictly speaking one must use discretion in linking words:

Pierre et/un ami (et is never linked)
Pierre est un ami

There is often a reason based on grammar or on the ear:

pot-au-feu (po-to-feu) has not the same meaning as mettre le pot au feu; in the latter case the t is silent.

We link naturally the article with a noun: un ami, une amie, l'ami, l'amie, les amis, les amies, les hommes, except before h aspirate or consonants. No liaison in les héros nor in les zéros.

§ 102. (2) Qualifying adjectives, possessive adjectives with nouns:

d'heureux enfants
les amis de mes amis sont mes amis

§ 103. (3) Nouns in the plural with the adjective:

des discours éloquents
but not in: un discours/éloquent (r is linked).

§ 104. (4) Pronouns including object, en, y:

il a, elle a, on a, j'ai, nous avons, vous avez, ils ont, etc.
on attend, en ont-elles, j'y vais, qu'avez-vous?

NOTE.—Are linked the pronoun before its verb or the verb before its pronoun.

§ 105. (5) The adverb before the adjective or past participle:

trop ardent,
fort estimé

(6) Prepositions except selon

chez elles
selon/eux

(7) d is carried on as t:

f as v
g as k s and x as z
grand homme cinq amis (q as k)
neuf hommes

NOTE.—The f is frequently 'eard instead of v.

un rang honorable le sang humain

S in vers, envers, discours, secours, etc., the r is carried except in plural nouns:

vers/une colline

un secours/inattendu

T preceded by r is carried on only in fort (when adverb).

fort aimable

not in à tort et à travers

CT as k in respect:

respect humain

respect absolu

N in liaisons: you utter the nasal vowel and link the n with the next syllable.

en achetant

AIN and IEN are weakened before linking:

certain ami

un ancien élève

IN is also weakened in old religious or classical appellations:

il est né le divin Enfant

le divin amour

ON may or may not be weakened in: mon ami, ton ami, son ami but in other cases it loses its nasal quality before being carried on:

ce bonhomme or in ce bon homme

c'est un bon ami

le bonheur

UN preserves generally its nasal quality: un ami

By affectation speakers say u-n ami

X. General Rules on Practical French Prosody: Articulation, Aspiration, Elision, Expiration, Liaisons, and Tonic Accent

§ 106. Articulation.—The ear must hear every syllable in French, however vanishing the stress may be: C'est u-ne Fran-çai-se. J'ai ré-pé-té, pro-non-ci-a-ti-on, é-lec-ti-on, do-mi-ner, ci-té, se-cré-tai-re.

§ 107. Aspiration (breathing upon).—Certain sounds are uttered with a breath upon the vowel: Ho! Ho! Philippe.

NOTE.—The h is aspirated in French when the following vowel is slightly pronounced from the throat: le héros. Then no elision nor linking is permissible, except with a mute h.

- § 108. Elision.—In auxiliary words the initials a, e, i, o, u or h (mute) are often preceded by l' (for le, la), d' (de), qu' (que), s' (si or se), etc.: l'ami, l'amie, l'enfant, j'ai, jusqu'à, s'il vous plaît.
- § 109. Expiration.—The French Language is articulated principally on the lips. You must breathe out while moving the lips: ce, si, etc.
- § 110. Liaisons or the linking of words.—The liaisons are frequently used in French and serve to connect principally the article with the noun, the adjective with the noun, the pronoun with the verb, the verb with the pronoun and the adverb before the past participle or adjective: un ami, un grand homme, il a, elle a, a-t-il, fort aimé, etc.

NOTE.—Words must not be linked before h (aspirate) or any other word not strictly connected by punctuation or by certain groups of words. Above all the ear must be pleased and proper pauses prevent the linking.

- § 111. Hiatus.—The meeting of the same vowel: one final, the other initial is called hiatus and no linking takes place. Ex. il alla à Paris, coupe-le en deux.

NOTE.—In Poetry no hiatus is tolerated, except for effect.

§ 112. Mute E

The so-called mute e.

Strictly speaking, the e is mute only when it is elided: l'ami, l'homme.

In other cases the final e is slightly uttered: la face.

In very few words the so-called e mute is not pronounced: soie, soierie. The e in old French was weak, but heard. Now, in conversation, it is heard or not according to its position.

Brachet says: «Dans la phonétique des voyelles, il faut considérer la qualité, l'accentuation, l'entourage.»

In daily use the same vowel e in the same word is uttered or not: Je n'veux pas, j' n'en sais rien.

Even in Poetry says M. Maurice Grammont: «En ancien français, sauf à la fin du vers et à la césure, tout e comptait pour une syllabe; aujourd'hui il ne compte plus jamais après une voyelle atone; tu joueras ne fait que trois syllabes, il en faisait quatre à l'origine.»

This modern usage began in the 14th century.

After a tonic vowel (prie, pries, prient) it is also silent, but the word, including it, is not allowed in the body of a verse, except when the e is elided. At the end of a verse it is a feminine rime.

§ 113. MASCULINE RIME is a final stressed syllable at the end of a verse.

§ 114. FEMININE RIME ends in e mute or -ent, -es (as its equivalent).

NOTE.—After a consonant the e, either in the body of a verse or at the end of a word, seems to have been silent or uttered in daily use from the 15th century to the present time.

§ 115. QUANTITY is not the basis of French verse and we count the syllables whether long or short; hence French verses are syllabic.

All syllables count except mute syllables when final (at the end of a verse) or elided.

§ 116. TONIC ACCENT. In Poetry there are two required stressed syllables: at the end of a verse (masculine rime) and at the cæsura.

From Quitard's Traité de Versification:

L'accent tonique, ainsi nommé parce qu'il consiste en une sorte de ton musical, est une modulation simple et légère qui se joint à certaines syllabes. Il se trouve toujours sur la dernière des mots à désinence sonore ou masculine, et sur l'avant-dernière des mots à désinence muette ou féminine. L'accent d'appui consiste dans une prononciation plus forte et plus ressentie de la syllabe sur laquelle la voix insiste, mais sans modulation.

As to the other accents (stress) in Poetry they may vary.

For emphasis or expressive reading the accent (stress) is maintained on first syllables beginning with consonants or on the medial: Ça ira, c'est épouvantable.

XI.—Practical French Prosody (see sects. 106–116)

§ 117. Briefly French verse is based on the number of syllables and on the rime. In French the stress or accentuation falls:

§ 118. (1) On the last syllables of words (of two syllables) ending with a masculine rime or the penultimate syllable when the word ends with a feminine rime.

§ 119. (2) The antepenultimate in words (with masculine rimes) of three or more syllables.

Let us examine briefly the modes of uttering French in Elocution, Reading, and Conversation.

§ 120. French character—being quick and mild, says d'Olivet—reveals brevity and suavity. Latin words as well as vowels have often been shortened in French, and to make the language more flowing the mute e has been multiplied, the hiatus often removed, and the article and the pronoun frequently used.

Although the long and short French vowels or syllables do not fulfill the same purpose as in Greek or Latin they may describe by their place or union different objects, various shades of meaning.

Some poets have succeeded in establishing a certain connection between sounds and ideas. From physical phenomena to abstract ideas they associate serious thoughts with long sounds, pleasant ideas with soft sounds.

In other words the poet may suggest such ideas or images to the mind by faithfully interpreting an intellectual impression or rendering it true to our senses.

Music has also given us long notes, deep sounds, etc., but their timbre and quality form the basis and the mode of articulating the French vowels.

§ 121. The rules of French Prosody are based—according to needs—on vivacity or lack of animation.

§ 122. Prosody

Listen to a prolonged whistling:

(Racine, Andromaque)

To Indolence:

.....«La mollesse oppressée,

Dans sa bouche, à ce mot, sent sa langue glacée:

Et, lasse de parler, succombant sous l'effort.

Soupire, étend les bras, . . . ferme l'œil et s'endort.»

(Le Lutrin, Boileau)

On a rocky road:

«Où, ô Hugo, huchera-t-on ton nom?

Justice, enfin rendue, que ne t'a-t-on?

Quand donc, au corps qu'Académie qu'on nomme

Grimperas-tu de roc en roc, rare homme.»

(P. Grandmaison)

Sonorous vowels:

«La victoire aux cent voix sonnera sa fanfare.»

(Hugo, A l'Arc de Triomphe)

Rapidity:

.....«Oh ! si j'avais des ailes

Vers ce beau ciel si pur je voudrais les ouvrir.»

(Musset, Rolla)

Briefly, the slower the pronunciation, the more important Prosody is in Reading, specially at the bar, in the theater, or pulpit.

Granting that diction is a sort of singing, each long syllable must be more pronounced. The timbre and the quality of vowels do not affect the stress (accent) because the pause is the same.

Alone the intonation varies in accordance with ideas or sentiments.

When the nasals are more frequent than the vowels the timbre seems to yield to the dominant quality of indolence or indifference.

Certain consonants (b, d, g, p, or c) are often used to express irony or sudden emotions; R to express dissatisfaction or rumbling sounds.

In Reading the pronunciation is somewhat slower; each syllable has its proper value, each sentiment its intonation. There should be more repose in Reading than in Elocution.

In Conversation the vowels seem to be all short, but are not so when properly sounded.

Good usage may be the best rule in Conversation, but many hiatus often add to its charm.

ARRÊTÉ

RELATIF A LA SIMPLIFICATION DE L'ENSEIGNEMENT DE LA SYNTAXE FRANÇAISE

(26 février 1901)

Le Ministre de l'Instruction publique et des Beaux-Arts, vu l'article 5 de la loi du 27 février 1880;

Vu l'arrêté du 31 juillet 1900;

Le Conseil supérieur de l'Instruction publique entendu,

Arrête:

ARTICLE 1.—Dans les examens ou concours dépendant du ministère de l'Instruction publique, qui comportent des épreuves spéciales d'orthographe, il ne sera pas compté de fautes aux candidats pour avoir usé des tolérances indiquées dans la liste annexée au présent arrêté.

La même disposition est applicable au jugement des diverses compositions rédigées en langue française, dans les examens ou concours dépendant du ministère de l'Instruction publique qui ne comportent pas une épreuve spéciale d'orthographe.

ARTICLE 2.—L'arrêté du 31 juillet 1900 est rapporté.

LISTE ANNEXÉE A L'ARRÊTÉ DU 26 FÉVRIER 1901

Substantifs

PLURIEL OU SINGULIER.—Dans toutes les constructions où le sens permet de comprendre le substantif complément aussi bien au singulier qu'au pluriel, on tolérera l'emploi de l'un ou l'autre nombre. Ex.: des habits de femme ou de femmes;—des confitures de groseille ou de groseilles;—des prêtres en bonnet carré ou en bonnets carrés;—ils ont ôté leur chapeau ou leurs chapeaux. . . .

Substantifs des deux genres

1. AIGLE.—L'usage actuel donne à ce substantif le genre masculin, sauf dans le cas où il désigne des enseignes. Ex.: les aigles romaines.

2. AMOUR, ORGUE.—L'usage actuel donne à ces deux mots le genre masculin au singulier. Au pluriel, on tolérera indifféremment le genre masculin ou le genre féminin. Ex.: les grandes orgues; — un des plus beaux orgues; — de folles amours, des amours tardifs.

3. DÉLICE ET DÉLICES sont, en réalité, deux mots différents. Le premier est d'un usage rare et un peu recherché. Il est inutile de s'en occuper dans l'enseignement élémentaire et dans les exercices.

4. AUTOMNE, ENFANT.—Ces deux mots étant des deux genres, il est inutile de s'en occuper particulièrement. Il en est de même de tous les substantifs qui sont indifféremment des deux genres.

5. GENS, ORGE.—On tolérera dans toutes les constructions l'accord de l'adjectif au féminin avec le mot gens. Ex.: instruits ou instruites par l'expérience, les vieilles gens sont soupçonneux ou soupçonneuses.

On tolérera l'emploi du mot orge au féminin sans exception: orge carrée, orge mondée, orge perlée.

6. HYMNE.—Il n'y a pas de raison suffisante pour donner à ce mot deux sens différents suivant qu'il est employé au masculin ou au féminin. On tolérera les deux genres aussi bien pour les chants nationaux que pour les chants religieux. Ex.: un bel hymne ou une belle hymne.

7. PAQUES.—On tolérera l'emploi de ce mot au féminin aussi bien pour désigner une date que la fête religieuse. Ex.: A Pâques prochain, ou à Pâques prochaines.

PLURIEL DES NOMS PROPRES.—La plus grande obscurité régnant dans les règles et les exceptions enseignées dans les grammaires, on tolérera dans tous les cas que les noms propres précédés de l'article pluriel prennent la marque du pluriel: les Corneilles comme les Gracques; — des Virgiles (exemplaires) comme des Virgiles (éditions).

Il en sera de même pour les noms propres de personne désignant les œuvres de ces personnes. Ex.: des Meissoniers.

PLURIEL DES NOMS EMPRUNTÉS A D'AUTRES LANGUES.—Lorsque ces mots sont tout à fait entrés dans la langue française, on tolérera que le pluriel soit formé suivant la règle générale. Ex.: des exéats comme des déficits.

Noms composés

NOMS COMPOSÉS.—Les mêmes noms composés se rencontrent aujourd'hui tantôt avec le trait d'union, tantôt sans trait d'union. Il est inutile de fatiguer les enfants à apprendre des contradictions que rien ne justifie. L'absence de trait d'union dans l'expression pomme de terre n'empêche pas cette expression de former un véritable mot composé aussi bien que chef-d'œuvre, par exemple. Ces mots pourront toujours s'écrire sans trait d'union.

Article

ARTICLE DEVANT LES NOMS PROPRES DE PERSONNES.—L'usage existe d'employer l'article devant certains noms de famille italiens: le Tasse, le Corrège, et quelquefois à tort devant les prénoms: (le) Dante, (le) Guide. On ne comptera pas comme une faute l'ignorance de cet usage.

Il règne aussi une grande incertitude dans la manière d'écrire l'article qui fait partie de certains noms français: la Fontaine, la Fayette ou Lafayette. Il convient d'indiquer, dans les textes dictés, si, dans les noms propres qui contiennent un article, l'article doit être séparé du nom.

ARTICLE SUPPRIMÉ.—Lorsque deux adjectifs unis par et se rapportent au même substantif de manière à désigner en réalité deux choses différentes, on tolérera la suppression de l'article devant le second adjectif. Ex.: l'histoire ancienne et moderne, comme l'histoire ancienne et la moderne.

ARTICLE PARTITIF.—On tolérera du, de la, des au lieu de de partitif devant un substantif précédé d'un adjectif. Ex.: de ou du bon pain, de bonne viande ou de la bonne viande, de ou des bons fruits.

ARTICLE DEVANT PLUS, MOINS, ETC.—La règle qui veut qu'on emploie le plus, le moins, le mieux comme un neutre invariable devant un adjectif indiquant le degré le plus élevé de la qualité possédée par le substantif qualifié sans comparaison avec d'autres objets est très subtile et de peu d'utilité. Il est superflu de s'en occuper dans l'enseignement élémentaire et dans les exercices. On tolérera le plus, la plus, les plus, les moins, les mieux, etc., dans des constructions telles que: on a abattu les arbres le plus ou les plus exposés à la tempête.

Adjectif

ACCORD DE L'ADJECTIF.—Dans la locution, se faire fort de, on tolérera l'accord de l'adjectif. Ex.: se faire fort, forte, forts, fortes de . . .

ADJECTIF CONSTRUIT AVEC PLUSIEURS SUBSTANTIFS.—Lorsqu'un adjectif qualificatif suit plusieurs substantifs de genres différents, on tolérera toujours que l'adjectif soit construit au masculin pluriel, quel que soit le genre du substantif le plus voisin. Ex.: appartements et chambres meublés.

NU, DEMI, FEU.—On tolérera l'accord de ces adjectifs avec le substantif qu'ils précèdent. Ex.: nu ou nus pieds; une demi ou demie heure sans trait d'union entre les mots, feu ou feue reine.

ADJECTIFS COMPOSÉS.—On tolérera la réunion des deux mots constitutifs en un seul mot qui formera son féminin et son pluriel d'après la règle générale. Ex.: nouveau, nouveau, nouveau, nouveau, nouveau;—courtivêtu, courtivêtu, courtivêtu, courtivêtu, etc.

Mais les adjectifs composés qui désignent des nuances étant devenus, par suite d'une ellipse, de véritables substantifs invariables, on les traitera comme des mots invariables. Ex.: des robes bleu clair, vert d'eau, etc., de même qu'on dit des habits marron.

PARTICIPES PASSÉS INVARIABLES.—Actuellement les participes approuvé, attendu, ci-inclus, ci-joint, excepté, non compris, y compris, été, passé, supposé, vu, placés avant le substantif auquel ils sont joints, restent invariables. Excepté est même déjà classé parmi les prépositions. On tolérera l'accord facultatif pour ces participes, sans exiger l'application de règles différentes suivant que ces mots sont placés au commencement ou dans le corps de la proposition, suivant que le substantif est ou n'est pas déterminé. Ex.: ci joint ou ci jointes les pièces demandées (sans trait d'union entre ci et le participe);—je vous envoie ci joint ou ci jointe copie de la pièce.

On tolérera la même liberté pour l'adjectif franc. Ex.: envoyer franc de port ou franche de port une lettre.

AVOIR L'AIR.—On permettra d'écrire indifféremment: elle a l'air doux ou douce, spirituel ou spirituelle. On n'exigera pas la connaissance d'une différence de sens subtile suivant l'accord de l'adjectif avec le mot air ou avec le mot désignant la personne dont on indique l'air.

ADJECTIFS NUMÉRAUX.—Vingt, cent. La prononciation justifie dans certains cas la règle actuelle qui donne un pluriel à ces deux mots quand ils sont multipliés par un autre nombre. On tolérera le pluriel de vingt et cent même lorsque ces deux mots sont suivis d'un autre adjectif numéral. Ex.: quatre vingt ou quatre vingts dix hommes;—quatre cent ou quatre cents trente hommes.

Le trait d'union ne sera pas exigé entre le mot désignant les unités et le mot désignant les dizaines. Ex.: dix sept.

Dans la désignation du millésime, on tolérera mille au lieu de mil, comme dans l'expression d'un nombre. Ex.: l'an mil huit cent quatre vingt dix ou l'an mille huit cents quatre vingts dix.

Adjectifs démonstratifs, indéfinis et pronoms

CE.—On tolérera la réunion des particules ci et là avec le pronom qui les précède, sans exiger qu'on distingue qu'est ceci, qu'est cela de qu'est ce ci, qu'est ce là.—On tolérera la suppression du trait d'union dans ces constructions.

MÊME.—Après un substantif ou un pronom au pluriel, on tolérera l'accord de même au pluriel et on n'exigera pas de trait d'union entre même et le pronom. Ex.: nous mêmes, les dieux mêmes.

TOUT.—Devant un nom de ville on tolérera l'accord du mot tout avec le nom propre sans chercher à établir une différence un peu subtile entre des constructions comme toute Rome ou tout Rome.

On ne comptera pas de faute non plus à ceux qui écriront indifféremment, en faisant parler une femme, je suis tout à vous, ou je suis toute à vous.

Lorsque tout est employé avec le sens indéfini de chaque, on tolérera indifféremment la construction au singulier ou au pluriel du mot tout et du substantif qu'il accompagne. Ex.: des marchandises de toute sorte ou de toutes sortes;—la sottise est de tout (tous) temps et de tout (tous) pays.

AUCUN.—Avec une négation, on tolérera l'emploi de ce mot aussi bien au pluriel qu'au singulier. Ex.: ne faire aucun projet ou aucuns projets.

CHACUN.—Lorsque ce pronom est construit après le verbe et se rapporte à un mot pluriel sujet ou complément, on tolérera indifféremment, après chacun, le possessif son, sa, ses, ou le possessif leur, leurs. Ex.: ils sont sortis chacun de son côté ou de leur côté;—remettre des livres chacun à sa place ou à leur place.

Verbe

VERBES COMPOSÉS.—On tolérera la suppression de l'apostrophe et du trait d'union dans les verbes composés. Ex.: entrouvrir, entrecroiser.

TRAIT D'UNION.—On tolérera l'absence de trait d'union entre le verbe et le pronom sujet placé après le verbe. Ex.: est il.

DIFFÉRENCE DU SUJET APPARENT ET DU SUJET RÉEL.—Ex.: sa maladie sont des vapeurs. Il n'y a pas lieu d'enseigner de règles pour des constructions semblables dont l'emploi ne peut être étudié utilement que dans la lecture et l'explication des textes. C'est une question de style et non de grammaire qui ne saurait figurer ni dans les exercices élémentaires ni dans les examens.

ACCORD DU VERBE PRÉCÉDÉ DE PLUSIEURS SUJETS NON UNIS PAR LA CONJONCTION et.—Si les sujets ne sont pas résumés par un mot indéfini tel que tout, rien, chacun, on tolérera toujours la construction du verbe au pluriel. Ex.: sa bonté, sa douceur le font admirer.

ACCORD DU VERBE PRÉCÉDÉ DE PLUSIEURS SUJETS AU SINGULIER UNIS PAR ni, comme, ainsi que ET AUTRES LOCUTIONS ÉQUIVALENTES.—On tolérera toujours le verbe au pluriel. Ex.: ni la douceur ni la force n'y peuvent rien ou n'y peut rien;—la santé comme la fortune demandent à être ménagées ou demande à être ménagée;—le général avec quelques officiers sont sortis ou est sorti du camp;—le chat ainsi que le tigre sont des carnivores ou est un carnivore.

ACCORD DU VERBE QUAND LE SUJET EST UN MOT COLLECTIF.—Toutes les fois que le collectif est accompagné d'un complément au pluriel, on tolérera l'accord du verbe avec le complément. Ex.: un peu de connaissance suffit ou suffisent.

ACCORD DU VERBE QUAND LE SUJET EST plus d'un.—L'usage actuel étant de construire le verbe au singulier avec le sujet plus l'un, on tolérera la construction du verbe au singulier, même lorsque plus d'un est suivi d'un complément au pluriel. Ex.: plus d'un de ces hommes était ou étaient à plaindre.

ACCORD DU VERBE PRÉCÉDÉ DE un de ceux (une de celles) qui.—Dans quels cas le verbe de la proposition relative doit-il être construit au pluriel, et dans quels cas au singulier? C'est une délicatesse de langage qu'on n'essaiera pas d'introduire dans les exercices élémentaires ni dans les examens.

C'EST, CE SONT.—Comme il règne une grande diversité d'usage relativement à l'emploi régulier de c'est et de ce sont, et que les meilleurs auteurs ont employé c'est pour annoncer un substantif au pluriel ou un pronom de la troisième personne au pluriel, on tolérera dans tous les cas l'emploi de c'est au lieu de ce sont. Ex.: c'est ou ce sont des montagnes et des précipices.

CONCORDANCE OU CORRESPONDANCE DES TEMPS.—On tolérera le présent du subjonctif au lieu de l'imparfait dans les propositions subordonnées dépendant de propositions dont le verbe est au conditionnel présent. Ex.: il faudrait qu'il vienne ou qu'il vînt.

Participe

PARTICIPE PRÉSENT ET ADJECTIF VERBAL.—Il convient de s'en tenir à la règle générale d'après laquelle on distingue le particide l'adjectif en ce que le premier indique l'action et le second l'état. Il suffit que les élèves et les candidats fassent preuve de bon sens dans les cas douteux. On devra éviter avec soin les subtilités dans les exercices. Ex.: des sauvages vivent errant ou errants dans les bois.

PARTICIPE PASSÉ.—Il n'y a rien à changer à la règle d'après laquelle le participe passé construit comme épithète doit s'accorder avec le mot qualifié, et construit comme attribut avec le verbe être ou un verbe intransitif, doit s'accorder avec le sujet. Ex.: des fruits gâtés;—ils sont tombés;—elles sont tombées.

Pour le participe passé construit avec l'auxiliaire avoir, lorsque le participe passé est suivi soit d'un infinitif, soit d'un participe présent ou passé, on tolérera qu'il reste invariable, quels que soient le genre et le nombre des compléments qui précèdent. Ex.: les fruits que je me suis laissé ou laissés prendre;—les sauvages que l'on a trouvé ou trouvés errant dans le bois. Dans le cas où le participe passé est précédé d'une expression collective, on pourra à volonté le faire accorder avec le collectif ou avec son complément. Ex.: la foule d'hommes que j'ai vue ou vus.

Adverbe

Ne DANS LES PROPOSITIONS SUBORDONNÉES.—L'emploi de cette négation dans un très grand nombre de propositions subordonnées donne lieu à des règles compliquées, difficiles, abusives, souvent en contradiction avec l'usage des écrivains les plus classiques.

Sans faire de règles différentes suivant que les propositions dont elles dépendent sont affirmatives ou négatives ou interrogatives, on tolérera la suppression de la négation ne dans les proportions subordonnées dépendant de verbes ou de locutions signifiant:

Empêcher, défendre, éviter que, etc. Ex.: défendre qu'on vienne ou qu'on ne vienne;

Craindre, désespérer, avoir peur, de peur que, etc. Ex.: de peur qu'il aille ou qu'il n'aille;

Douter, contester, nier que, etc. Ex.: je ne doute pas que la chose soit vraie ou ne soit vraie;

Il tient à peu, il ne tient pas à, il s'en faut que, etc. Ex.: il ne tient pas à moi que cela se fasse ou ne se fasse.

On tolérera de même la suppression de cette négation après les comparatifs et les mots indiquant une comparaison: autre, autrement que, etc. Ex.: l'année a été meilleure qu'on l'espérait ou qu'on ne l'espérait;—les résultats sont autres qu'on le croyait ou qu'on ne le croyait.

60 ARRÊTÉ RELATIF A LA SYNTAXE FRANÇAISE

De même après les locutions à moins que, avant que. Ex. : à moins qu'on accorde le pardon ou qu'on n'accorde le pardon.

Observation

Il conviendra dans les examens, de ne pas compter comme fautes graves celles qui ne prouvent rien contre l'intelligence et le véritable savoir des candidats, mais qui prouvent seulement l'ignorance de quelque finesse ou de quelque subtilité grammaticale.

Vu pour être annexé à l'arrêté du 26 février 1901.

délices (f.) delight; un délice joy; un vrai délice a real joy.

LESSON II

PLURAL OF NOUNS AND ADJECTIVES

§ 7. GENERAL RULE: Most nouns and adjectives form their plural by adding s to the singular:

le mur the wall; les murs the walls; le petit garçon the little boy (the small boy); les petits garçons the little boys.

Exceptions:

1. Invariable words take no s:

les oui the ayes; les non the nays.

2. Nouns and adjectives ending in -s; -x; -z remain unchanged:

le fils, les fils the son, the sons; la voix, les voix the voice, the voices; le nez, les nez the nose, the noses; l'omnibus the omnibus, les omnibus the omnibuses; heureux père happy father; heureux pères happy fathers.

3. Nouns and adjectives ending in -au; -eu take x in the plural; likewise seven nouns in -ou:

un bateau a boat; des bateaux boats; le cheveu the hair; les cheveux the hair; de beaux cheveux beautiful hair; exception: bleu, bleus (pl.) blue; landaus landaus; bijou (x) jewel (s); cailloux pebbles; choux cabbages; genoux knees; hiboux owls; joujoux toys; poux lice; les sous pennies, etc.

4. Most nouns and adjectives ending in -al change -al to aux:

le cheval the horse; les chevaux the horses; égal, égaux equal; l'animal the animal; les animaux the animals; le journal the newspaper; les journaux the newspapers; exceptions: (s being added to the singular) bal ball; carnaval carnival; chacal jackal; aval endorsement; few adjectives: amical amicable; fatal fatal;

final final; glacial glacial (icy); initial initial; matinal early-riser; naval naval (nautical); pénal penal; théâtral theatrical, take s in the plural; cf.: les pals or les paux stakes (punishment); les cals calli; and a few others seldom used.

5. The following in -ail change -ail to -aux:

le bail the lease	les baux the leases
le corail coral	les coraux corals
l'émail enamel	les émaux enamels
le soupirail air-hole	les soupiraux air-holes
le travail the work (labor)	les travaux works
le vitrail (stained) glass window	les vitraux glass, etc.

NOTE.—bétail cattle; les bestiaux cattle; others take s in the plural.

§ 8. DOUBLE PLURALS:

§ 53. PRESENT INDICATIVE AND ITS USE.—Only one form of the Present is used in French as the act is done or continuous at the very moment one speaks; it refers not only to an act purely present, habitual or true but replaces the Past or Future in lively narratives.

il a souvent des maux de tête he often has headaches.

NOTE.—Tu instead of vous is used among relatives and friends.

§ 54. Review:

the for le, l', la, les :

L'Article Défini

le before a masculine noun beginning with a consonant

l' " any noun beginning with a vowel or h mute la " a feminine noun beginning with a consonant

Ex.: le père, le héros, l'oncle, l'homme, l'ami, la tante the father, the hero, the uncle, the man, the friend, the aunt.

les before all plural nouns

L'Article Indéfini

un a, an, one (m.); une a, an, one (f.)

§ 55. The Possessive Adjectives (Les Adjectifs Possessifs)

Masculine		Feminine		Plural
mon	my	ma	my	mes	my
ton	your (thy)	ta	your (thy)	tes	your (thy)
son	his, her, its	sa	his, her, its	ses	his, her, its
notre	our	notre	our	nos	our
votre	your	votre	your	vos	your
leur	their	leur	their	leurs	their

NOTE.—It is repeated before each noun to which it refers; mon, ton, son used instead of ma, ta, sa before feminines beginning with a vowel or h mute.

Ex.: j'ai ma leçon; tu as ta leçon; il a sa leçon; elle a sa leçon; on a sa leçon; nous avons notre leçon; vous avez votre leçon; ils ont leur leçon. Oral Drill: j'ai mon crayon, etc.

as-tu or	est-ce que tu as do you have?
a-t-il " "	qu'il a does he have?
a-t-elle " "	qu'elle a does she have?
avons-nous " "	que nous avons do we have?
avez-vous " "	que vous avez do you have?
ont-ils " "	qu'ils ont do they have?
ont-elles " "	qu'elles ont do they have?

- est-ce que je n'ai pas* (n'ai-je pas) do I not have?
 " que tu n'as pas (n'as-tu pas) have you not? etc.
 " qu'il n'a pas (n'a-t-il pas) has he not; does he not have?
 " qu'elle n'a pas (n'a-t-elle pas) has she not; does she not have?

NOTE.—Est-ce que is rather inquisitive.

n'avons-nous pas (est-ce que nous n'avons pas) have we not? (do we not have?)

n'avez-vous pas (est-ce que vous n'avez pas) have you not?

est-ce qu'il y a (y a-t-il?) is (are) there?

cf.: qu'avez-vous? what ails you or: what is the matter with you? (in reference to health, temper).

§ 59. en and le (l'); la; les; as Pronouns:

en may mean: some (any); of it; of him; of her; of them; it; le it (him); l' it (him); la it (her); les them:

Ex.: J'en ai I have or I have some; je n'en ai pas I have not any; I have none; j'en ai un (une) I have (one); j'en ai seulement deux I have only two; il en a besoin he needs it (them); (need of, etc.); il en parle he speaks of it (him, her, them).

NOTE.—No neuter gender in French; le; l'; la; les; en; y; are placed before the verb (simple tense) and before the auxiliary in the Compound Tenses: je l'ai vu I saw it (him); I have seen it (him).

(a) The two above pronouns come after the Imperative when not used negatively:

donne-le; ne le donne pas give it; do not give it donne-la; ne la donne pas give it; do not give it

(b) le (l') may replace an adjective:

il l'est he is (so he is)

LESSON VII

§ 61. CONTRACTIONS OF: de le = du of the; from the de l' = de l' (no contraction) de la = de la " " " de les = des (before plurals nouns)

(partitive sense): all may mean some; any.

NOTE.—Same rule applies to both du and au:
à le = au to the (at the) à l' = à l' " "
à la = à la " "
à les = aux " "

du before a masc. noun beginning with a consonant or h aspirate de l' before a masc. or fem. noun beginning with a vowel or h mute

For Practice:

de New-York of (from) New York; du village of (from) the village; du héros of (from) the hero; de la mère of the mother, etc.; des élèves of the pupils; some pupils; à New-York to (at, in) New York; au village to the (at the) village; au héros to the hero; à la mère to the mother; aux élèves to the pupils; à la hauteur de to (at) the height of; avez-vous du pain, de l'eau, de l'huile, de la viande, des pommes? Have you any bread, water, oil, meat, apples? J'en ai I have.

§ 62. IMPERFECT OF THE INDICATIVE AND ITS USES
(so-called descriptive tense):

j'avais; tu avais; il avait; nous avions; vous aviez; ils avaient
I had; you had; he had; we had; you had; they had

NOTE.—This tense has the same endings in all verbs: -ais, -ois; -ait; etc.; and may mean also: used to have; was having; kept having; had been having; did have; would have (as a past of habit); conditional endings which are the same.

- § 63. RULES.—This tense implies a past idea,—interpreted as habitual, lasting condition, situation; frequently used in relative clauses, in or after such expressions as:

je croyais (j'ai cru) que I thought

(a) j'avais des leçons le lundi, le mardi, le mercredi, le jeudi, le vendredi et le dimanche; et le samedi; I had (used to have) lessons on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Sunday; and on Saturday

je croyais que vous aviez une plume d'acier I thought you had a steel pen; j'ai cru que tu avais mon canif I thought (for a moment) you had my penknife; elle avait les cheveux blonds ou roux she had light or reddish hair; sa maison avait de grandes fenêtres his (her) house had large windows.

- § 64. NOTE.—de (some or any)—whether expressed or understood in English stands before an adjective or the direct object of a negative verb; in partitive constructions; in expressions denoting measure, quantity, material (adjectival phrases); after adverbs of quantity; after verbs, adjectives or expressions requiring it:

elle a de bon sucre, de bon papier blanc, de jolis enfants she has (some) good sugar, good white paper, pretty children; du fil noir; des gants blancs; black thread; white gloves; but: des petits-fils grandchildren; indivisible in sense; il n'a pas d'or he has no gold; he hasn't any gold; il en a; il n'en a pas; he has (some); he has none (not any); il est sans argent he is without (any) money; peu d'argent little (not much) money; ils n'ont pas de quoi payer they haven't anything to pay with; une robe de soie a silk dress; un mètre de longueur a yard long; avoir besoin de to need; to have need of; il manque d'argent he lacks money; il vit d'air pur he lives on fresh air.

- § 65. NOTE.—In negative interrogations; after general negations implying an affirmative answer:

n'avez-vous pas des amis? Si, monsieur; have you not (any) friends (haven't you some, etc.)? yes, Sir; mais si; mais si; why, yes; yes indeed; je n'ai pas des gants de soie, mais j'ai des gants de coton I haven't silk gloves, but I have cotton gloves.

- (b) after c'est . . . que often omitted in English and meaning because:
il a prodigué son or; c'est qu'il avait de l'argent; he was lavish of his gold; (because) he had money; cf.: parce que because (and reason given).

- (c) after depuis que (quand); voici (voilà) que:
depuis quand avait-il cet hôtel? how long had he that hotel? (had he been having?); voilà que dans ma poche il y avait un dollar (5 frs.) (why) in my pocket there was one dollar (5 francs); depuis qu'il avait le cheval, elle allait souvent en voiture after (the time) he got the horse, she often went riding.

- (d) after si if; que why; comme as, because; que how; combien how much; how many? and the i in si omitted only before il:
s'il l'avait; si elle les avait; if he had it; if she had them; s'il ne les avait pas if he did not have them; il en avait; insensé qu'il était! un sot (fou) he had some; how stupid he was! a fool.

Exercice de Conversation:

§ 66. PAST DEFINITE (PRETERIT): also called historical, narrative, literary tense:

j'eus; tu eus; il eut; nous eûmes; vous eûtes; ils eurent

NOTE.—Tense mostly used in books; time entirely elapsed.

§ 67. RULE.—As the name implies the Past Definite refers to a single act accomplished at a specific time mentioned in the sentence; the action or state denoted by it, is not viewed as being in progress (as in the Present Indicative or the Imperfect) but more as a (whole) result:

il n'eut point non plus le plaisir de les voir he had not the pleasure of seeing them either; or lui non plus n'eut point le etc.

aussi n'eut-il aucune peine à faire approuver ces règles so he had no difficulty (whatever) in having those rules approved; j'eus ma leçon hier; hier matin; I had my lesson yesterday; yesterday morning; do not say: j'eus ma leçon aujourd'hui I had my lesson to-day.

The present tendency is to use in French conversation the Past Indefinite instead of the Past Definite. In narrations authors often prefer the Present Indicative,—and also the Infinitive preceded by de to the Past Definite, so as to enliven a narrative or relieve the monotony.

le tambour bat; le clairon sonne; et d'aller;
the drum beats; the bugle calls; and indeed we went.

§ 68. POSSESSIVE PRONOUNS:

singular		plural
masculine	feminine	masculine	feminine
le mien	mine	la mienne	les miens
le tien	yours	la tienne (thine)	les tiens
le sien	his (hers, its)	la sienne	les siens
le nôtre	ours	la nôtre	les nôtres
le vôtre	yours	la vôtre	les vôtres
le leur	theirs	la leur	les leurs

§ 69. PAST INDEFINITE or CONVERSATIONAL TENSE:

j'ai eu for: I had (have had); tu as eu you had (have had) il a eu he had (has had); nous avons eu we had, etc.
vous avez eu you had (have had); or: did have § 70. RULE.—This tense may refer or not to an action accomplished to-day, yesterday, etc.; in fact to all moments of the past; to express a truth one may sometimes use either the Past Definite or Indefinite:

Dieu créa le monde or Dieu a créé le monde God created the world;
avez-vous tout dit have you had your say (have you told all)?
que n'ai-je été toute ma vie plus prévoyant? why have I not been all my life more foreseeing? les enfants qu'elle a eus du premier mariage sont: the children she had by her first marriage are; un de ses enfants one of her (his) children; one child of hers (his);
une de mes amies a (lady) friend of mine; one of my friends.

§ 71. ADJECTIFS DÉMONSTRATIFS (Demonstrative Adjectives):

ce (cet) m.; this, that; cette f.; this, that; ces these, those;

cet before a masculine noun or adjective beginning with vowel or h mute:

ce garçon; cet ami; cet homme; cette femme;
this boy; this friend; this man; this woman (wife) ce héros; ces garçons; ces filles;

 this hero; these boys; these (those) girls;

Observe: demonstrative adjectives always repeated:

a-t-il acheté ces crayons et ces plumes?
 did he buy those pencils and pens?

§ 72. PRONOMS DÉMONSTRATIFS (Demonstrative Pronouns):

singular		plural
celui (m.)	this (one); that (one)	ceux (m.) these
celle (f.)	the one (that of)	celles (f.) those

NOTE.—celui plus de, etc., may replace: 's mon crayon et celui de Jean my pencil and John's; ma plume et celle de Jeanne my pen and Jane's; mes devoirs sont meilleurs que ceux de Pierre my exercises are better than those of Peter (Peter's).

ceci this; cela that; -ci and -là are added to above nouns and pronouns to better distinguish; for emphasis:

j'ai deux livres; voulez-vous celui-ci ou celui-là? I have two books; will you have this one or that one? voulez-vous ce livre-là? Do you wish that book? voulez-vous ce livre-ci? Do you wish this book? cela (ça) est vrai that is true; ceci (cette chose-ci) est pour vous this (this thing here) is for you.

Observe: cela refers to ideas, objects indicated, not yet named: cela est pour lui that is for him; retenez bien ceci do not forget this.

§ 73. FUTURE AND ITS USES:

j'aurai	tu auras	il aura
I will (shall) have	you shall (will) have	he shall (will) have nous aurons	vous aurez	ils auront
we will (shall) have	you shall (will) have	they shall (will) have and correspond generally to the same English tense:

ils n'auront rien du tout they shall have nothing at all or: they will have nothing at all il en aura le démenti he will get the worst of it

 " " he will be worsted

il en aura le dessous he will have the worst of it

§ 74. RELATIVE PRONOUNS (Pronoms Relatifs):

qui (who, that, which) as subject (nominative case) que (which, that) as object (in the objective case)

ce qui (what or that which; which, that) as subject ce que (what) as object; the e may be elided; not i in qui qui est là who is there?

l'homme qui est malade, est âgé the man who is ill is old; la dame que vous avez vue the lady (whom) you have seen; que dit-il (qu'est-ce qu'il dit) what does he say? que cherche-t-il what is he looking for? on le cherche some one is looking for him; cf.: quel est ce jeune homme who is that young man? for: what sort of a young man is he? à qui est-ce? whose is it?

(a) future instead of the Imperative in the Ten Commandments:

un seul Dieu tu adoreras thou shalt have no other gods before me (adore but one God).

(b) in mild command:

vous l'aurez dans cinq minutes, n'est-ce pas? Have it in five minutes, please.

(c) in regulations, edicts, supposition (probability); with si whether:

je ne sais s'il l'aura ou non I do not know whether he will have it or not; s'il ne l'a pas, c'est qu'il l'aura perdu if he has it not, he must have lost it; vous aurez la salle à six heures have the room at six o'clock; cf.: c'est à qui l'aura every one wishes to have it; il l'aura dans sa malle he may have it in his trunk; Jean l'aura alors John has it then.

(d) in absolute affirmation:

il m'a assuré qu'il l'aura he assured me that he will have it; voilà qui vous plaira just what you want; elle a prédit qu'il aura le prix she predicted that he will win the prize; ce qui n'arrivera pas and that may not happen; ce qui est fâcheux (dommage) and that is a pity or: which is unfortunate.

Notice the use of the present (indicative) in reference to a near future:

je vais sortir I am going out (I will go out); encore une minute, et je l'ai one more minute and I shall have it; il le veut ainsi he will have it so; c'est un parti pris chez elle she will do it; à eux deux maintenant and now both will have it out; cela suffit that will do;

that suffices; c'est là que je les attends I shall get (await) them there;

Distinguish: voulez-vous? will you have (do you wish or desire?) and aurez-vous?

§ 75. IMPORTANT RULE IN FRENCH.—If futurity is implied after:

quand; lorsque (when); aussitôt que (sitôt que) as soon as dès que from the very moment that;

tant que as long as; USE the Future in French:

aussitôt qu'il l'aura, vous l'aurez as soon as he has it (or: will have it) you will have it and Future also in the following:

comme vous l'entendrez as you think proper; faites ce que vous pourrez do what you can; faites ce que vous voudrez do what you wish; advienne que pourra come what may; viennne qui voudra come who will; comme il vous plaira as you like; rira bien qui rira le dernier laughs well who laughs last; qui vivra verra or celui qui etc.; he who lives longest will see most; time will tell; tant qu'il vivra as long as he lives; le plus tôt que vous pourrez as early as you can; à votre aise: comme vous voudrez as you please.

LESSON VIII

§ 76. ce (plus est) or: sont: c'est; ce sont as demonstrative pronoun: c'est Charles it is Charles; c'est moi it is I; c'est le plus joli it is the prettiest:

c'est toi

it is you

c'est nous it is we c'est lui

it is he c'est vous

it is you

c'est elle it is she c'est eux (elles f.)

it is they (they) c'est le meilleur (la meilleure) it is the best; ce sont les meilleurs (les meilleures) they are best; c'est celui qu'il a it is the one he has; c'est celle qu'il a it is the one (that one) he has; c'est son ami qui est là it is his (her) friend, etc.; n'est-ce pas is it or is it not? etc.; qui est-ce who is he? c'est mon ami (e) he (she) is my friend; ce sont eux; ce sont elles; it is they; est-ce eux? is it they?

§ 77. ce: as a conclusive statement, remark or for emphasis:

c'est juste quite right; c'est une belle ville que Paris Paris is a beautiful city (indeed); c'est un Anglais he is an Englishman; cf.:

il est Anglais he is English; c'est midi it is twelve (noon); c'est ma sœur she is my sister; it is etc.;

ce sont (c'est): used before a proper noun, a pronoun, a superlative as: it; this; that; he; she; these; those.

General Review:

il fume, ce qui m'étonne he smokes, which astonishes me; ce qui m'étonne, c'est son savoir what surprises me is his knowledge; il est une heure it is one o'clock; c'est un homme qui sait tout a man who knows everything; c'est ce à quoi je songeais precisely what I was thinking; ce que vous dites est vrai what you say is true; tant petits que grands both great and small; tant pour eux que pour vous as much (many) for them as for you; que c'est joli ! how pretty that is! dès qu'il se présente, on lui obéit as soon as he makes an appearance, he is obeyed; obéir (à) to obey; s'il vient (arrive) ce soir, je le verrai if he comes (will come, should he come) to-night, I shall see him.

§ 78. RULE.—si (if) being a condition answers to the Future or vice-versa: je le verrai ce soir, s'il vient, etc., and independently of the English form.

Exercice de Conversation:

c'est mes sœurs it is or those are my sisters; sont-ce les vôtres is it (are those) yours? ce ne sont pas ceux (celles) que j'ai achetés (-ées) those are not the ones I bought (or: these etc.); ce ne sont pas celles-ci; ce sont celles-là these are not the ones; those are; où sera-ce where will that (it) be? vous l'aurez, n'est-ce pas or: n'est-ce pas que vous l'aurez? you will have it, will you not? minuit sonne (c'est minuit) it is midnight (on the stroke of twelve); quelle heure est-il? Il est minuit what time is it? it is midnight; de ces deux écrivains, je préfère celui-ci; celui-là; of these two writers I prefer the latter; the former; (slang): en voilà une bonne blague or: c'est une bonne blague (que) celle-là that's a good hoax (joke); ce que je crains, c'est de le froisser (blesser) what I fear is to wound his feelings; un homme de la sorte a man of that kind; de la sorte in that way; c'est un grand chef que Foch Foch is a great leader; c'est aujourd'hui le 1^{er}; le 2^e mai; to-day is the 1st; the second of May; il a tout ce qu'il désire he has all he wishes; c'est une heure qui sonne (une heure sonne) it strikes one; une demi-heure, une heure et demie half an hour, an hour and a half.

§ 79. CONDITIONAL PRESENT (le Présent du Conditionnel)

j'aurais		tu aurais
I would or should have		(thou wouldst or shouldst have) you would or should have il aurait	nous aurions	vous auriez	ils auraient
he would have	we would have	you would, etc.	they would have

Observe: It answers to the imperfect with si (if), expressed or understood:

would and should may be distinguished while studying devoir; pouvoir; vouloir and the Imperfect of habit (or Past or habit):

vous devriez le faire you should do it; il pourrait le faire s'il avait le temps he would be able to do it, if he had the time; il ne voudrait pas y aller he wouldn't care to go; elle y allait souvent she would often go there; si je l'avais, il serait content or il serait content, si etc., if I had it (should I have it; were I to have it; should I happen to have it) he would be glad; je voudrais être riche I should like to be rich or I wish I were etc.; (si if being understood); mentir serait honteux (il serait honteux de mentir) to lie would be shameful.

(a) also in statements of indignation, surprise, supposition, concession, contingency and reports:

je croyais qu'il l'aurait I thought he would have it; il l'aurait, qu'il n'en serait pas content he might have it, yet not be satisfied with it; serait-ce possible can that be! lui, il les aurait he would have them! comme qui dirait somewhere about; je ne savais s'il l'aurait I did not know whether he would have it; cela serait-il vrai were it (if it were) true? on le dirait it looks like it; one would say so; quant à moi, quand même elle les aurait; quand bien même; as for me, even if she had them; even if; quand (alors qu') il serait malade even if he should be ill; alors qu'il était malade when he was ill; comme si l'on disait as if one would say; par un décret de la Providence as God would have it; on remarquera peut-être alors qu'il y a eu un malentendu perhaps it may be noticed then there was a misunderstanding.

- (b) with verbs of wishing; also oser (to dare); pouvoir and in a few exclamations or questions:

je vous serais obligé I would be obliged to you; oserais-je lui parler could I dare to speak to him? pourrais-je ne pas l'avoir could I not have him (it)!

- (c) in mild statement, favor or threat;

je ne saurais vous le dire I hardly know or I couldn't tell you; auriez-vous la bonté de passer chez moi? will you kindly call on me? cf.: appeler to call; je voudrais bien l'acheter I should like well to buy it; qui (quiconque) l'aurait, serait puni whoever might have it would be punished; on m'a dit qu'il l'aurait I was told he would have it; on m'a dit qu'il l'aura I was told he will get it.

(Future implies strong affirmation)

§ 81

quel (masculine singular)	quelle (feminine singular)
quels (masculine plural)	quelles (feminine plural)

Practice:

quelle maison a été incendiée? what house (whose house) was burnt? which or what (a):

quel crayon a-t-il? what (which) pencil has he?

quelle plume a-t-il? what (which) pen has he?

quelle plume! what a pen!

quel beau jour! what a beautiful day! Adjectives only.

§ 82. INTERROGATIVE PRONOUNS (Pronoms Interrogatifs)

lequel	lesquels	laquelle	lesquelles
which (one)	which (ones)	which (one)	which (ones)
duquel	desquels	de laquelle	desquelles
of which (one)	of which (ones)	of which (one)	of which (ones)
auquel	à laquelle	auxquels	auxquelles
to which (one)	to which (one)	to which (ones)	to which (ones)

NOTE.—Instead of de qui (of whom) used of persons and of duquel, etc., with prepositions; dont of whom; of which; whose is most frequently employed; dont (from where, whence) replaces d'où: from which; or whence; où (where) often means: to; in; at which and the like.

voilà le pupitre sur lequel il a mis ses livres there is the desk upon which he put his books; lequel? which one? lequel des deux est le plus studieux? which one of the two is more studious? l'homme dont il parle est son cousin the man of whom he speaks is his cousin; l'écureuil auquel il donne à manger the squirrel to which he gives (something) or which he is feeding; l'appartement où il demeure est petit the apartment in which he lives is small; l'hôtel où il va the hotel to which he goes; l'heure où (que) il expira the hour at which (when) he expired; les parents dont il est issu the parents from whom he sprung (he was born); l'hôtel dont le patron est M. X. the hotel whose head is Mr. B.; de qui est-il fils? whose son is he? parmi lesquels among whom.

§ 83. in the body of a sentence and in order to distinguish the number and gender of the person or thing spoken of, use:

lequel, laquelle, etc.

les amies de ma femme, lesquelles sont Américaines the friends of my wife, who are American; les enfants dont il a trouvé le père the children whose father he found; donnez-lui ce dont il a besoin give him (her) what he needs (that of which he has need); tout ce qui (que) all that; everything that; quoi what; used alone or with prepositions, and refers to things only: quoi de nouveau what's new? de quoi parlez-vous what are you speaking of? à quoi songez-vous what are you dreaming of or about?

§ 84. IMPERATIVE PRESENT or FUTURE (l'Impératif) aie have (thou) ayons let us have ayez have (you) qu'il ait let him have qu'ils aient let them have Forms borrowed from the Subjunctive:

aie patience be patient; aie courage be courageous; ayez soin de lui take care of him.

(a) instead of the Present Indicative:

ayez de la patience, il se moque de vous have patience (be patient) with him, he laughs at you, or: if you are patient with him, he laughs at you.

(b) instead of the Subjunctive:

ayez du chagrin ou non, cela lui est égal be sorrowful or not, it matters not to him (her); for: whether you may be in sorrow or not, it matters little (whether you are in sorrow, etc.).

(c) the Imperative has no first person singular; the speaker in addressing himself may use the second or the first person plural:

aïe courage, Charles (ayons courage, Charles) I have courage, Charles.

(d) supposition:

ayez de l'envie, tout le monde en parle be envious, everybody speaks of it.

Exercice de Conversation:

les dames aux fils desquelles il donne des leçons the ladies to whose sons he gives lessons; Dieu en qui je crois God in whom I believe; moi qui suis son frère I who am his brother; voilà qui est bizarre now that is strange! lui qui est riche he who is rich; elle qui est pauvre she who is poor; celui qui est riche, n'est pas toujours heureux he (any one; one) who is rich, is not always happy; c'est vous qui l'avez you have it. (it is you who); le lion qui rugit the lion that (which) roars; c'est ce dont il se plaint that's what he complains of; à qui est cette maison whose house is this, whose house is that? c'est celle de mon oncle it is my uncle's (that of); c'est la dame dont le fils est malade she is (it is) the lady whose son is ill; celle dont j'ai connu le fils à the one whose son I knew at; une somme, en vertu de laquelle a sum in virtue of which or by which; un acte par lequel il s'engage à an act by which he binds himself to; à l'heure qu'il est at the present time; rien de ce qu'il dit est vrai nothing that he says is true; le printemps prochain (qui viendra) the next Spring (the coming Spring); celle qu'il aime the one he loves (she whom he loves); le couteau dont je me sers the knife I use; of which I make use; se servir de to use; d'où venez-vous where do you come from? ce à quoi je songeais something I thought of; ce à quoi je ne songeais guère something I hardly thought of; à quoi passe-t-il ses soirées how does he spend his evenings? ce dont (ce de quoi) nous parlions what we were speaking of; à propos de quoi in reference (with respect) to what? ce en quoi il se trompe he is mistaken in that or therein he is mistaken; au nombre desquels among etc.; sur quoi il se tut whereupon he kept silent; sur ce, il sortit thereupon he went out.

LESSON IX

§ 85. SUBJUNCTIVE PRESENT or FUTURE (Le Présent du Subjonctif):

que j'aie	que tu aies, etc.
(that) I may have	(that) you may have, etc.
qu'il ait	que nous ayons
(that) he may have	(that) we may have, etc.
que vous ayez	qu'ils aient
(that) you may have	(that) they may have, etc.

NOTE.—These forms are variously translated into English. Study carefully:

§ 86. RULE.—As the name implies this tense is used in subordinate, depending clauses; hence subjected to a principal (main) clause:

1. After principal clauses implying will, order, fear, desire, request, approval, doubt, strong wish, expectation;

il veut (ordonne) que je l'aie he commands that I should have it or he wishes me to have it; maintenant ou à l'avenir now or in the future.

§ 87. Also in the subordinate clause there is an idea of the present or the future when the first verb is in the present or the future (tense); the following example implies an idea of the past,—in the subordinate clause:

il doute que nous l'ayons eu he doubts that we have had it; he doubts that we ever had it; il doutera que nous l'ayons eu he will doubt that we had it; cf.: je commande mon dîner I am ordering my dinner; je commande à Jean d'apporter le café I am ordering John to bring the coffee; je ne demande qu'une chose I ask but one thing; c'est de réfléchir à ce que vous dites to think over what you say; j'y réfléchirai I shall think about it; ça (cela) demande de la réflexion that requires reflection; on fait de sérieuses réflexions we (they, etc.) are seriously thinking (about it); ça: is colloquial; ça demande tout that (thing) fellow asks for everything; quels sont ces gens-là who are those people (men)? or: what kind of people are those (over there)? voyez donc ça! just look at that! comme ça dévore! how ravenously they eat! How they devour! quels gloutons (gluttons)!

2. Idea of uncertainty with Subjunctive; idea of certainty with Indicative:

on doute que cela soit one doubts if it is so; je doute qu'il veuille le faire I doubt whether he will do it (: he may be willing to do that); je ne crois pas qu'il l'ait I do not believe (that) he has it; but: il ne croit pas qu'elle l'a (Indicative) he does not believe she has it; elle crut qu'un glaive la transperçait she thought a blade (sword) was piercing her body; je ne crois pas qu'il sorte ce matin I do not believe he is going out this morning; je ne crois pas qu'il sorte ce soir I do not believe he will go out this evening.

3. In independent clauses with or without que (elliptical clauses):

vive l'Amérique! long live America! (for: I hope that America may live long); Dieu vous protège (garde) God speed (protect) you; qu'il l'ait ou non, peu m'importe whether he has it or not, little matters to me; puissé-je le revoir! may I see him again!

Exercice de Conversation:

dites-moi quelle heure il est tell me what time it is; une heure vient de sonner it has just struck one; je vais régler ma montre (mon chronomètre) I will set my watch (my chronometer); une montre de précision a timepiece; une montre à répétition a repeating-watch; (a repeater); je recule l'aiguille I move back the hand; une horloge a clock; une pendule a pendulum; le cadran face; la chaîne de montre the watch-chain; il met sa montre à l'heure he is setting his watch on time; il est deux heures et quart it is quarter past (after) two; il est trois heures moins vingt it is 20 minutes of three; il est six heures et demie half-past six; une demi-heure half an hour (and demi is invariable before the noun); for brevity we say: 1:30 one thirty; or: une heure trente; à trois heures de l'après-midi, du soir at three o'clock in the afternoon (evening); du matin, de l'avant-midi; in the morning (forenoon); vers midi; vers les une heure; about noon; about one; il y a environ une heure de marche d'ici à (jusqu'à) there is (it's) about an hour's walk from here to; demandez l'heure to ask the time; j'ai travaillé trois heures I worked three hours.

1 un	7 sept	one two three four five six
2 deux	8 huit	seven eight nine ten eleven
3 trois	9 neuf	twelve (which is midi or minuit)
4 quatre	10 dix	noon midnight
5 cinq	11 onze
6 six	12 douze

douze heures means: 12 hours' duration or twelve long hours;

il est sorti vers les deux heures he went out about two o'clock; c'est l'heure juste it is the correct time; l'heure précise the correct time; il vient à l'heure précise he comes on the hour sharp; punctuel (-le); retardataire; punctual; tardy; attardé; être en retard; belated; to be late; arriver tard to arrive (come) late.

4. After verbs of emotion:

penser to think; espérer to hope being excepted unless the latter are used negatively, interrogatively; craindre to fear; trembler to tremble; empêcher (de) to prevent; appréhender to apprehend; avoir peur to be afraid; redouter to dread, usually take: ne; unless used negatively or interrogatively; ne penses-tu pas qu'il y ait là-dessous une histoire? don't you think that there is (a story) something behind it? elle empêchera qu'il ne sorte she will prevent him from going out; il craint qu'il ne soit malade he fears he is ill or may be ill; une boîte de montre a watch-case; vous êtes loin de vous douter de ce qu'il a eu à souffrir (à endurer) you are far from having a suspicion of what he had to suffer (endure); horloger watchmaker; je ne pense pas qu'il soit à Paris I do not think he is in Paris; une breloque a charm (trinket); je pense qu'il est à New-York I think he is in New York; elle ne doute pas qu'il ne le fasse she does not doubt but he will do it; réparer to repair; il ne craint pas qu'ils entrent he does not fear they will enter; il remonte sa montre he winds his watch; il attache une breloque à sa chaîne d'argent he fastens a charm to his silver watch-chain; on fait, répare, vend des montres, des horloges, des pendules we (they etc.) make, repair, sell watches, clocks, etc. craignez-vous qu'il sorte do you fear he will go out?

NOTE.—Ne may or may not be used (in a subordinate clause): ne craignez-vous pas qu'il ne sorte (qu'il sorte)? do you not fear he will go out (he may go out)?

In poetry ne is optional.

5. After most Impersonal Verbs: and with que:

il faut que it is necessary; il est juste it is fair; il est bon it is well; il importe it matters; il est possible (impossible) it is possible (impossible); il est temps it is time (that, for); il convient (il est convenable) it is suitable; peu s'en faut little is wanting; il suffit it suffices; c'est dommage it is a pity; il vaut mieux better, it is better, etc.

Also with (if) (si . . . et que (if):

il faut que nous ayons notre billet; il est nécessaire que; we must have our ticket; il est important que etc.: it is important that we should have our ticket; si vous êtes à Paris et que votre cousin n'y soit pas if you are in Paris and your cousin is not there; que ferez-vous? what will you do? il n'y a rien qui tienne nothing can hinder him; résister à la tentation to resist temptation; il vaut mieux or vaut mieux que vous l'achetiez you had better buy it; il faut que ces imprimés soient affranchis that printed matter must be pre-paid (post-paid); un timbre-poste a postage-stamp; il lui semblait n'avoir jamais éprouvé cela de sa vie it seemed to him that he had never experienced that before in his life; de sorte que l'objet réparé soit comme neuf so that the article repaired looks like a new one; de sorte qu'il soit (réparé) à neuf so that it will seem like new; la réparation des enduits contre les murs (de plâtre) repairing the walls with a coat of plaster.

6. After Superlatives —except when certainty is implied:

c'est le meilleur cigare que j'aie jamais fumé it is the best cigar I have ever smoked. But: c'est la plus belle des fleurs qu'il a (il a la plus, etc.) it is the most beautiful flower that he has (he has the most beautiful, etc.); c'est la meilleure preuve que je dis la vérité that's the best testimony that I spoke the truth.

Same rule after:

le seul, la seule, les seuls, les seules, etc.

c'est le seul qui soit coupable he is the only one that is guilty c'est la seule qui soit coupable she may be the only guilty one

7. After que preceded by soit:

soit que vous l'ayez whether you have it; whether you may have it; cf.: que vous l'ayez ou non whether you may have it or not; qu'il l'ait let him have it; qu'il les ait let them have them.

Exercice de Conversation:

il est facile de faire cela to do that is easy; c'est facile (c'est chose facile à faire) it's easy (an easy thing to do; to be done); il ne faut pas jurer qu'on ne le fera pas we must not affirm that we will not do that; il jure d'être là (d'y être) he swears to be there or: that he will be there; un des plus grands exploits qui soit (soient) one of the greatest feats that have been; on espère y aller we (they, etc.) hope to go there; on espère qu'il va mieux we hope he is better; qu'il soit venu, je l'avoue that he has come, I admit; elle défend qu'on sorte she forbids any one to go out; on s'étonne qu'il ne soit pas ici we are astonished that he isn't here (: that he should not be here); le premier qui soit mort the first who died; c'est la seule personne à laquelle je me fie he (she) is the only person that I trust; je ne suis pas le premier qui l'ai dit I am not the first person (one) who said so; nous sommes tous présents; il n'y a personne qui ne soit venu; we are all here; there is no one absent; or: there is no one who has not come; il n'y a que lui pour les critiquer (qui puisse les critiquer) he is the only one who criticizes them or able to criticize: who may criticize them; s'il y avait un homme qui pût les trahir if there were a man who might betray them.

8. After adverbial clauses,—substantive, temporal, concessive, hypothetical, final, consecutive clauses and que; substantive clauses are those used as subject or object of a verb; adjectival clauses are used to qualify a noun; adverbial clauses used to qualify a verb either to limit or qualify the action whenever anticipation, contingency, time, purpose, result is implied:

afin que in order that (so that); à condition que provided; on condition; de peur que lest (with ne); de crainte que for fear that (with ne); en cas que in case; non que not that; bien que although; loin que far from; pour peu que (si peu que) if ever so little that; au cas que (en cas que) in case; sans que unless; supposé que granting that (suppose); encore que (bien que) altho; à moins que unless (with ne) in strong affirmation; malgré que (nonobstant) notwithstanding; pour peu que however little; si . . . que (or: quelque . . . que) however . . . that; tout . . . que however; pourvu que provided; quoique although; jusqu'à ce que (or: que only) until; till; qui que whoever; où qu'il ait wherever he may have; quoi que whatever; en attendant que while; quelque (with an adjective) however.

NOTE.—que is often used alone for: afin que; sans que; à moins que . . . ne; jusqu'à ce que.

General Review for Conversation:

avant qu'il soit trop tard before it is too late; avant de partir before leaving (avant que je parte) etc.; jusqu'à ce qu'il le trouve until he finds him (it); attendez qu'elle soit prête (for: jusqu'à ce qu'elle soit) wait until she is ready; jusqu'à ce qu'il arrive quelqu'un until some one comes; il tient à ce qu'il vienne he is desirous to have

LESSON X

REVIEW CAREFULLY pages 116 to 143 and the following to page 173.

In French there are six Moods or manners of expressing an action, of implying a state of existence, viz.:

l'infinitif; l'indicatif; le conditionnel; l'impératif; le subjonctif et le participe.

§ 88. The Infinitive or Impersonal Mood may be used as a noun: (a) as subject; (b) as direct or indirect object; (c) as attribute; (d) in prepositional phrases. There is another Infinitive—an infinitive of narration, which is preceded by de to emphasize an idea translated in English by the Preterit: Past of immediate action.

§ 89. PRESENT INDICATIVE (le Présent de l'Indicatif).

As previously stated there is in French only one form of expressing or indicating an action: being done now; of implying a state of being—at the very moment one speaks.

1. Hence: j'ai or any other verb may mean a present action or feeling:

il a sa leçon he has (is having) his lesson, etc.

elle a faim she is hungry

il est malade he is ill (has been ill, etc.)

depuis une heure since one o'clock; also:

depuis une heure for an hour (he is still ill)

2. An undeniable fact:

la lumière existe light exists

3. a doubt—or positive meaning implied with: si (if) when followed or preceded by a principal clause in the Future tense:

si j'ai le temps, je travaillerai or: je travaillerai, si, etc. if I have the time, I shall work; I shall work if, etc.; cf.: s'il est malade, laissez-le seul or: puisque since, as he is ill (if he is ill) leave him alone; si (whether) may imply doubt: je ne sais s'il parle le français ou l'allemand I do not know whether he speaks French or German; s'il est gai, c'est qu'il a de l'argent if he is cheerful, it is because he has money; le temps, c'est de l'argent time is money; il a si peu d'argent he has so little money; vous n'êtes point malade; mais si, mais si: je le suis or: si, je le suis; you are not ill; why yes, indeed; yes, I am; la maladie illness; le malade patient.

4. In narratives to enliven descriptions:

le père, la mère, les enfants, tous prennent la fuite the father, the mother, the children, all take to flight; à l'approche du bandit at the approach of the bandit; si je te propose ces démarches, c'est pour te procurer une satisfaction personnelle if I suggest to you this step, it is to afford you personal satisfaction; menacé de mort prochaine, on se précipite à la portière threatened with imminent death, we (they) rush to the carriage-door; un coupé s'arrête devant la porte latérale de a brougham stops at the side door; cf.: je viens de les voir I just saw them; I have just seen them; c'est elle que je viens de rencontrer it was she whom I just met (immediate Past).

§ 90. DIRECT INTERROGATION: It requires the personal pronoun (subject) after the verb with hyphen; if the subject is a noun, the latter usually stands before the verb and is repeated as a pronoun after the verb: ai-je? a-t-il? etc.

l'homme est-il mortel? is man mortal? but: est-ce que l'homme est mortel? is man mortal?

A form required in the present indicative of:

partir to leave (depart); parler to speak; and all monosyllabic verbs (in the first person singular) except:

avoir and être; aller to go; devoir to owe; dire to say (tell); faire to do (make); pouvoir to be able; savoir to know (how); voir to see.

§ 91. IMPERFECT OF THE INDICATIVE (l'Imparfait de l'Indicatif (descriptive tense).

1. It describes a past not completed when something happened; as being in progress:

il avait sa leçon, lorsque je suis entré he had his lesson (was having his, etc.), when I entered.

2. A state of being; habit or permanent action:

il était si triste à cette époque-là he was so sad then; se trouver to be (there); nous avions nos leçons le lundi we had (used to have; would have) our lessons on Mondays; Napoléon avait du courage Napoleon had courage; on en avait souvent we would often have some; oh! cette nuit, Jean, que ne te trouvais-tu pas là oh! John, why were you not there last night?

3. Simultaneity—or two actions taking place together:

quand nous avions notre leçon de français, vous aviez la vôtre when (whenever) we had our French lesson, you had yours

4. After si (if)—with conditional meaning, and followed or preceded by the principal clause in the conditional:

si vous aviez de l'argent, vous auriez ce violon or: vous auriez ce violon, si vous etc. if you had (should have; happened to have) any money, the money, etc.; you would have this violin, or: you would have, etc. cf.: si j'y allais! suppose I go there! or: I had better go (a sudden decision); si je l'achetais! I had better buy it; suppose I buy it; si je les voyais! if I should see them! if I were to see them!

si (whether) implying doubt may be used in all the tenses of the Indicative and Conditional:

il ne sait si son frère parle, a parlé, parlera, aura parlé, avait parlé he does not know whether his brother speaks, spoke (has spoken), will speak, will have spoken, had spoken; il ne savait si son frère parlait, parlerait, etc. he did not know whether his brother was speaking, would speak, etc.

si (if) implying a condition is not to be used with the Future or the Conditional:

si j'étais de vous (si j'étais que de vous) if I were you; s'il parle, elle parlera if he speaks, she will; or: so will she; s'il parlait, elle parlerait if he should speak, should he speak, she would too; if he were to speak, she would also; (should he happen to, if he were to speak, she would also); si elle avait parlé, il aurait parlé had she spoken, so would he (have). Note that in the last example we may use sometimes the Conditional Past (2nd form).

Exercice de Conversation:

on parlait souvent de lui we often spoke (would speak) of him; we used to speak of him (meaning what used to happen); on se levait de bonne heure we used to rise early; de meilleure heure earlier; son père était médecin his (her) father was a doctor; il y avait une heure que j'attendais, lorsqu'il se présenta I had been waiting an hour, when he made an appearance; attendre to wait for; «où sont les enfants?» fit (s'écria) le professeur where are the children? said (exclaimed) the professor; (Past in narrative, indirect discourse): on demanda au concierge où se trouvait M. X. we inquired of the janitor where Mr. B. was; on le le disait bien et cela depuis longtemps we (they) kept telling it to you, and for a long time; or: we did tell you, and for a long while; depuis quand l'aviez-vous, lorsqu'il le réclama how long had you had it, when he claimed it; depuis qu'il était maire de la ville, tout le monde l'admirait davantage after he became mayor of the city, everybody admired him more; voilà plus d'un an qu'on se le disait we had been repeating it to one another for more than a year; comme il se levait de table et qu'il s'avançait vers la fenêtre as he rose from the table and advanced towards the window; voilà, s'écria-t-il (s'écriait-il) la voiture qui m'attend! "there," exclaimed he, "is the carriage waiting for me"; voilà ce qu'il disait that's what he was saying.

§ 92. Imperfect used sometimes in verbs of speaking or in quotations:

il entraînait, dînait, se reposait he would enter, dine, rest; les uns disaient: oui; les autres disaient: non some would say: yes; others: no; tous répondirent: oui all answered: yes!

Note again: the Past (when used) is determined by an act viewed as in progress (Imperfect): habitual, lasting condition; in the way it is interpreted, in its relation to some other action (going on at the time another occurs); the Past Definite (Preterit) refers briefly and simply to an action in the past and in a general way (without further implication), while the Imperfect is (in our mind) a Present as if continuous and descriptive for what had been and still was (or Pluperfect in English): ils y étaient depuis deux jours they had been there for two days.

§ 93. PAST DEFINITE (preterit, historical, narrative tense) — le passé défini—expresses what happened in a definite period of time:

il eut alors une récompense he had then a reward; il mourut, le 1er mai, 1900; he died on the 1st of May, 1900.

NOTE.—In books it is used with: hier (yesterday); la semaine passée (dernière) last week; le mois passé the past month; l'année dernière last year; but not in conversation.

§ 94. PAST INDEFINITE (or: Perfect; Conversational Tense) refers to a past action at a definite or indefinite period:

il a eu sa leçon à dix heures he had his lesson at ten; elle a eu sa leçon she had her lesson.

NOTE.—This tense is used instead of the (near) Future Past tense:

attendez-le; il a fini dans cinq minutes wait for him; he (will be through) will have finished within five minutes.

In few other cases: if you do not wish to be assertive, the Future Past is used: il l'aura perdu he may have lost it; perhaps he did lose it.

Various Examples:

il est arrivé ce matin he arrived this morning; on s'est couché de bonne heure hier soir we (they) went to bed early last night; il a été aimé de tout le monde everybody esteemed him; il a été malade deux semaines he was (has been) ill two weeks (he is no longer ill); l'avez-vous acheté did you buy it? je l'ai acheté I did.

NOTE.—Tense considered rather formal in letter and conversation in English, while the French prefer it to the Past Definite, either in speaking of general facts, or of recent events:

il y a eu deux personnes de tuées two persons were killed (there have been two persons killed); Richelieu a fondé l'Académie française Richelieu founded the French Academy: the French Academy was founded by Richelieu (Passive Voice often avoided in French).

A. Thierry a dit de lui: «Tout ce qui était possible en fait d'amélioration sociale au temps de Richelieu fut exécuté par cet homme, dont l'intelligence comprenait tout, dont le génie pratique n'omettait rien, qui allait de l'ensemble aux détails, de l'idée à l'action avec une merveilleuse habileté; il eut à un degré unique l'universalité et la liberté d'esprit.»

§ 95. PAST ANTERIOR refers to an act accomplished immediately before another:

quand (après que) il eut lu le journal, il sortit after he had read the paper, he went out; à peine eut-il reçu la lettre qu'il y répondit scarcely had he received the letter than he answered it; répondre (à) to answer; to reply to; la réponse (answer).

§ 96. COMPARE the Pluperfect (both answer to the English Pluperfect):

il était sorti quand vous êtes venu he was out (he had gone out) when you came, or vice-versa; lorsque j'avais eu ma leçon, je sortais (whenever I had had) when I had my lesson, I used to go out (would go out) etc.

Observe: In some cases this tense is replaced by the Past Indefinite:

j'ai lu avec plaisir que vous n'avez pas été longtemps malade
I read with pleasure you had not been ill long.

§ 97. PLUPERFECT generally used with the Imperfect:
quand il avait eu sa leçon, il sortait when he had had his lesson, he would go out.

si (if) with the Pluperfect instead of the Conditional Past:

si vous aviez fait cette question, je vous aurais répondu if you had asked that question, I would have replied to you; for: si vous eussiez fait, etc.; it was customary to end (our task): on avait toujours terminé nos devoirs avant le dîner our exercises were always over before dinner (-time).

§ 98. FUTURE (absolute and simple):

ils ont des yeux et ne verront pas; ils ont des oreilles, ils n'entendront pas they have eyes and see not; they have ears and hear not.

Exercice de Conversation:

elle avait grandi depuis qu'on ne l'avait vue she had grown since we saw her; elle disait que oui she said: yes; il parla les yeux baissés he spoke with downcast eyes; on ne le fera pas; ni moi non plus; they will not do it; neither shall I (nor I either); ni lui non plus neither he; qu'était devenu son frère? what had become of his brother? il est à souhaiter que la guerre d'Europe se termine (finisse) le plus tôt possible it is desirable that the European war will soon end; vous sortirez, n'est-ce pas? n'est-ce pas que vous sortirez? you will go out, will you not? ceux qui riront pleureront those who laugh will weep; peut-être un jour même ces souvenirs auront pour vous des charmes perhaps some day these remembrances may delight you.

Observe: This tense denotes simply an act to be done; use will or shall with verb expressed or understood.

j'aurai ma leçon demain, n'est-ce pas? I shall have my lesson tomorrow; shall I not? or: n'est-ce pas que j'aurai ma leçon demain? si yes; jusqu'où ne monterai-je to what height may I not ascend? monter to go up; comme vous voudrez as you please; fais ce que tu pourras do what you can; voulez-vous? is to be distinguished from aurez-vous? vous viendrez, n'est-ce pas? you will come, will you not? je viendrai I shall (for: I shall come).

Instead of the Imperative:

(ne tue point do not kill; for: tu ne tueras point thou shalt not kill; que ne dira-t-on pas? what may we not say? cf.: elle ne veut point y aller she will not go there; elle n'ira pas demain, mais après-demain she will not go to-morrow, but after to-morrow; the day after; ce gamin passe souvent ses soirées dans les rues this street-urchin often spends his evenings in the streets; voulez-vous m'accompagner chez moi? will you accompany me to my house (home)? il veut que je vous le dise he wishes me to tell it to you (that I should tell it to you); savez-vous s'il ira do you know whether he will go? toutes les personnes présentes voudront bien s'asseoir all present will kindly be seated; il aura agi sans doute d'après les formalités requises he has no doubt acted according to the required formalities.

§ 99. FUTURE PAST (ANTERIOR) corresponds to the same English tense and refers to what will have happened; also to denote possibility, conjecture, etc.:

il aura fini à six heures he will have finished at six o'clock; quand il sera parti, on partira after he has left, we shall leave (we shall leave after he does); il aura bientôt terminé (fini) he will soon have finished; il l'aura perdu (in simple conjecture) he may have lost it; perhaps he did lose it; elle aura écrit sa lettre, quand vous terminerez la vôtre she will have written her letter when you end yours; il espère que vous n'aurez pas travaillé trop dur he hopes you have not worked too hard.

§ 100. TWO FUTURE ANTERIORS in one sentence, one of which has a subordinate clause with si:

quand (même) vous aurez gagné des millions, vous n'aurez point mérité de confiance, si vous n'êtes pas honnête even if you have earned millions, you will deserve no confidence, if you are dishonest. Cf.: § 101, 1.

Exercice de Conversation:

recueillir le fruit de son travail to reap the fruit of one's labor; vous recueillerez ce que vous aurez semé you will reap what you have sown; il aura dissipé son bien he may have squandered his property (fortune); on espère qu'il viendra we hope he may come (it is to be hoped etc.); qui le volera sera puni whoever steals it (him) will be punished; ce sera demain le trois mai to-morrow will be the third of May; il sera devenu plus riche que Jean he must have become richer than John; il se sera levé avant nous he must have risen before us; il aura été estimé de tout le monde he must have been esteemed by all; il se sera trompé de rue he must have taken the wrong street (he must have made a mistake); si je ne me trompe pas if I mistake not; if I am not mistaken; dès qu'il m'aura payé, je vous le ferai savoir as soon as he has paid me, I shall inform you (let you know); personne ne saura si elle sera venue no one will know whether she has come.

- § 101. CONDITIONAL (PRESENT) (le présent du conditionnel) depends on a condition implied or stated (with would or should as auxiliaries) and answers to a past as the Future to a present; it is translated into English by would or should expressed or understood; cf.: should with devoir implies duty; would with vouloir implies volition; would (in the Imperfect of past habit) to be distinguished from would and should in the Conditional tense.

j'aurais, etc. I would or should have, etc.; il voudrait être riche (s'il le pouvait) he wished he were rich (if he could); elle aurait sa leçon, si elle n'était pas malade she would have her lesson, if she were not ill; or: si elle n'était pas malade, elle, etc.; le feriez-vous would you do that (it)? je le ferais I would; si j'avais le temps if I had the time; on serait heureux, s'il se rétablissait we shall be glad if he recovers; il pourrait vous le dire he could tell it to you; je voudrais être riche I wish I were rich; si je le pouvais if I could; il vint comme on pensait qu'il le ferait he came as it was anticipated that he would; il lisait du matin au soir he would read from morning till night (Past of habit).

1. after si (if); quand (bien) même (even if); also in subordinate clauses when a verb of the principal clause in one of the Past tenses and there is no doubt:

quand même il me le dirait, je ne le croirais pas even if he should tell it to me, I would not believe him; on croyait qu'il viendrait we (they; people) thought he would come; elle voulait voir s'il irait she wished to see if (whether) he would go.

2. in advice, supposition, astonishment, indignation, hearsay:

il vaudrait mieux que vous l'ayez better for you to have it; on dirait qu'il est mort one would think he is dead; lui! trahir son serment! (lui, il trahirait son, etc.!) he would betray his oath! porter du bois à une forêt ne serait pas plus insensé it is carrying coals to Newcastle; on m'a dit qu'il se rétablirait I was told (they told me) he would recover; on m'a dit d'entrer I was told I could enter; or: on m'a dit que je pouvais entrer; on m'a défendu d'entrer I was forbidden to enter; c'est à ne pas y croire one would not believe it; autant dire you might as well say; je me demande ce que j'aimerais mieux qu'il soit (murmura la mère) I wonder what is the best thing for him to be.

Exercice de Conversation:

comme il achevait sa lettre, il s'aperçut que sa cigarette est éteinte as he was finishing his letter, he noticed that his cigarette was out; il part dans un instant he will leave in a moment; il était nuit noire quand il arriva chez lui it was pitch dark when he reached home; rien ne l'ébranlera, je vous en avertis nothing will move him, I warn you (tell you beforehand); elle sera sortie dès qu'elle aura achevé sa lettre she must have gone out as soon as she had finished her letter; il ne me répond pas; me serais-je trompé? he does not answer me; is it possible that I may be mistaken? il venait d'être élu président he had just been elected president; à quoi lui auraient servi ses conseils? ils ne les auraient pas suivis of what avail would have been his advice? he would not have followed it; c'est là que, après sa mort (après qu'il sera mort) il reposera en terre it is there where, after his death, he will be buried; il les connaissait bien, et en parlait souvent he knew them well, and would often speak of them; si tu avais été témoin de son courage, tu ne parlerais pas comme ça if you had witnessed his courage, you would not speak in that way; cela ne sera jamais approuvé that will never be approved; cela ne serait jamais approuvé that can (could) never be approved; à ce que dit le journal du matin, le traité de paix serait conclu (selon le journal, etc.) (by what) the morning paper says, a treaty of peace is concluded (according to the paper, etc.); cf.: il serait en ville he is in town; quand je l'avais connu, il n'était pas ce qu'il est aujourd'hui when I knew him, he was not what he is to-day; plus on le cherchait à travers les bois (la forêt), plus on se perdait the more we looked for him through the woods (forest), the more we wandered (lost our way); quand le voleur entrera, et qu'il sera temps de l'empoigner, je tirerai un coup de pistolet when the thief enters and the moment is favorable to arrest (grab) him, I shall fire a shot (fire off a pistol); après qu'il fut sorti on consola la mère qui fondait en larmes after he had left (gone), we (they) consoled the mother who burst into tears.

3. to express a wish, an opinion reservedly; also in certain exclamations or questions:

je vous en serais bien reconnaissant I should be very grateful to you (for it); il vaudrait mieux le faire better do it; on ne saurait partager votre opinion one could (cannot) not share your opinion; il l'aurait qu'il n'en serait pas content he would have it and yet not be satisfied with it; serait-ce possible could it be possible? can that be! je ne saurais le lui dire I could not tell it to him; oserais-je lui parler! how could I dare speak to him! pourrais-je ne pas lui parler! See § 80, (b).

NOTE.—would and should more fully explained with: vouloir, devoir, pouvoir and savoir at §§ 128, 131, 113, 116, 80.

auriez-vous l'obligeance de me laisser passer? would you kindly allow me to pass? il serait honteux de mentir (mentir serait honteux) it would be shameful to lie! en pareil cas in such a case; on s'étonne qu'il ne nous voie point we are astonished that he should not (does not) see us; si vous en goûtez (quand or après que vous en aurez goûté) vous ne voudrez plus manger d'autre chose if you taste (try) it, you will never wish to eat any other kind; quiconque (celui qui) en mangerait, en mourrait whoever would eat of it, would die.

§ 103. CONDITIONAL PAST:

si j'avais eu la lettre, je l'aurais lue if I had had the letter, I would have read it; s'il était venu, je serais venu if he had come, I would have come; s'il était aimé, il serait estimé if he were liked, he would be esteemed; si je m'étais levé à temps, je me serais habillé if I had gotten up in time, I would have dressed myself; o Fabricius! qui eût dit votre grande âme O Fabricius! who could have imagined your great soul? il se serait donc fâché he lost his temper (no doubt); elle aurait perdu la tête she lost her head (then!); si vous eussiez parlé plus tôt! if you had spoken sooner! je comptais que vous seriez venu lundi I expected you to come (on) Monday; cela fût-il vrai, ce n'est pas bon à dire or: cela serait-il vrai, ce n'est pas, etc. granting that it is true or even if that were true, it is not well to say it.

- § 104. NOTE.—The Second Form of the Conditional Past, cannot replace the First Form when there is no condition expressed; the Conditional Anterior has the same use as that of the Conditional: something would have happened, if, etc.; and is related to the simple Conditional just as the Future Perfect (Anterior) to the Future.

Exercice de Conversation:

avait-il de l'argent, il le dépensait (for s'il avait, etc.) if he had money he spent it; il dépensait tout ce qu'il gagnait he would spend all his earnings (all he earned); un panier percé a spendthrift; de folles dépenses extravagant expense; il est dépensier he is extravagant (he likes spending money); il dépense plus qu'il ne gagne he spends more than he earns; elle n'oserait vivre aux dépens d'autrui she wouldn't dare to live at the expense of others (at other people's expense); voulait-elle de l'argent, sa mère lui en donnait fréquemment if she wished for money, her mother often gave her some; quel gaspillage! what a waste! elle est économe she is saving (thrifty); il faudrait faire des économies we (you, etc.) ought to put by money (we should save); plus il perdait son temps, plus il gaspillait (dissipait follement) the more he wasted his time, the more he squandered away (spent extravagantly); sans discernement without discrimination; sans réflexion thoughtlessly; sans réfléchir without considering (seriously); son bien, sa fortune his wealth, his fortune; les richesses du pays the riches of the country; le temps, c'est de l'argent time is money; on ne saurait trop profiter d'une occasion; one cannot (could not) make too much of an opportunity; on se moquait (on se riait) de ses largesses they paid no heed to his liberality; ce serait se moquer que de ne pas en tenir compte it would be treating it slightly not to take account of it; il en revenait toujours là he always persisted (harped on that same string).

§ 105. IMPERATIVE (l'Impératif) used in general as in English; in the 2nd person singular and in the 1st and 2nd persons in the plural:

parle speak (thou); fais-le do it (thou)

Observe: Verbs of the first conjugation take no s in parle, etc.; also in: cueille; ouvre; offre; tressaille; but the s is added to parle; cueille, etc., before en and y:

cueilles-en gather some; and avoir, être, savoir, vouloir borrow in the Imperative the forms of the Subjunctive: aie; sois; sache; veuille for: have; be; know; please.

1. in a command this tense may imply present or future:

parlez maintenant speak now; parlez demain leave to-morrow.

2. for want of the first person singular, the speaker may address himself by using the second person singular or first person plural:

soyons sage, me dis-je (let us) be good, said I to myself; rentre en toi-même, Jean collect thy (your) thoughts, John.

3. in suppositions:

faites-le, on se moque de vous do it and people will laugh at you.

4. Perfect Imperative seldom used:

ayez fini votre travail quand je serai de retour have your work done when I am back (return); cf.: finissez de parler have done speaking.

§ 106. Few verbs as Interjections,—and as if to express a sudden surprise or turn of mind; as if to encourage, to incite:

allons, j'accepte very well, I accept; allons donc! nonsense! tiens (tenez)! il est là there! (why! hold!) look! he is here! voyons, soyez sage come! be good. See § 84.

LESSON XI

§ 107. PRACTICE with the personal pronouns when the Imperative is used affirmatively:

apporte-le-moi; apportez-la-moi bring it to me apportez-les-nous bring (fetch) them to us

apportez-les-moi; apporte-les-moi bring them to me apporte-le-lui; apporte-la-lui bring it to him (her) apportez-le-lui; apportez-la-lui bring it to him (her) apporte-les-lui; apportez-les-lui bring them to him (her) apportez-le-leur; apporte-le-leur bring it to them apportez-la-leur; apporte-la-leur bring it to them; apportez-les-leur; apporte-les-leur bring them to them moi becomes m' before: en; lui does not change; y precedes en

me le	te le	nous le	vous le
me la	te la	nous la	vous la
me les	te les	nous les	vous les
m'en	m'y	nous en	lui en
t'en	t'y	vous en	leur en
s'en	s'y	lui en	y en

Drill:

apporte-m'en; apportez-m'en bring me some; ne m'en apporte(z)
pas do not bring me any; apporte-lui-en bring him (her) some; ne lui en apportez pas do not! il s'en va he is going (away); ap- portez-leur-en bring (fetch) them some; portes-y-en (portes-en-là) carry some there; portez-y-en (portez-en-là) carry some there; n'y en portez pas do not carry any; portez-y-moi (portes-y-moi):
portez-moi là carry me; portes-y-le (la); portez-y-la (le) carry it (him); portez-le là; portez-y là take it (him) there; portes-y-la carry her (it) there; portez-y nous carry us there; or portez-nous là.

Reflexive verbs:

lève-toi; levez-vous get up levons-nous let us rise (get up) qu'il se lève let him rise (get up) asseyez-vous sit down; assieds-toi sit down

§ 108. FINAL REVIEW of two possible pronouns after the verb:

le moi with hyphens as above, although some prefer to omit la moi the second hyphen.

les moi
la moi	le nous	la nous	les nous
les moi	le lui	la lui	les lui
	le leur	la leur	les leur
m'en	nous en	nous y
t'en	vous en	vous y
lui en	leur en

Observe. Combinations of three forms like:
donnez-m'y en are to be avoided, and also in conduisez-y moi for: conduisez-moi là.

songez-y think of it; fiez-vous y trust him (confide in him); va-t-en; allez-vous-en go away; je m'y fierai for: je me fierai à lui I shall trust him; l'y; t'y; m'y are to be avoided.

§ 109. Two possible pronouns before the verb: me le (l'); me la (l'); me les; te le (l'); te la (l'); te les;

le lui ; la lui ; les lui	se le (l') ; se la (l') ; se les
m'en ; l'en ; s'en ; l'en	lui en ; nous en ; vous en
m'y ; t'y ; s'y	leur en
nous y ; vous y ; leur y	y en ; les y

je les ai vus, lui et elle I have seen him and her; on en a parlé à lui, à vous et à moi they spoke of it to him, to you and to me; je lui ai parlé I spoke to him (her).

§ 110. A few observations on the Imperative. The tone of voice differentiates command from simple wish:

tiens, écoute now, listen; va pour un franc I accept (at that rate): colloq.; let it go for a franc; tiens! qu'il est drôle! how funny he acts! il est brutal, allez he is a brute, I assure you; qu'il ait; qu'il soit; let him have; let him be; etc.; (in the Subjunctive Present) replace the third person lacking in the Imperative.

also in such expressions as:

riez, moquez-vous, approuvez, critiquez-moi, cela m'est égal laugh, make fun, approve, criticize, it is all the same to me; or: que vous riez, que vous vous moquiez, etc. (in the Subjunctive), whether you laugh, make fun, etc.; que vous sondiez le terrain ou non whether you examine the ground or not; whether you see how matters stand.

but not in reference to threats (Subjunctive only):

que tu casses ce verre et que je le sache break that glass and should I be informed of it.

§ 111. Infinitives used instead of the Imperative at the end of circulars, letters or even in the body of a sentence as a request for the reader:

voir à la page dix (also: voyez page dix) see page 10; s'adresser à apply to; prendre une cuillerée à thé take a teaspoonful; for: je vous prie de vous adresser à or: je vous engage à vous adresser à I request you to; I beg of you to apply to.

Exercice de Conversation:

je vous en prie I beg of you; implorer to beseech; l'enfant dit sa prière the child is saying his prayer; on fait la prière du soir they (etc.) are having their evening prayer; prière de faire parvenir cette lettre à will you kindly see that this letter reaches M.; on prie Dieu avec ferveur we pray God fervently; on les pria à dîner we (they) invited them to dinner; avec instance earnestly; de la part de M. X. at the request of Mr. B.; une demande indiscrete an indiscreet question (request); prière de ne pas cracher dans les tramways please do not expectorate in the tramways; une demande instante urgent request; instamment urgently; instamment earnestly (urgently); un tribunal de première instance qui siège au chef-lieu du 10^e (dixième) arrondissement Civil (Inferior) Court sitting at the headquarters of the 10th (tenth) precinct (district); Paris a vingt (20) arrondissements (precincts).

dis-moi (dites-moi) ce qu'il fait tell (do tell me) me what he is doing (what he does); dites-lui ce que font ces amis tell him (her) what his (her) friends are doing; dis-moi où se trouve ton ami (where your friend is); ils se donnent la main they shake hands; elle donne la main à she shakes hands with; je vous serre la main I shake your hand; à l'instant même at this very moment; on me dérange à chaque instant I am disturbed every moment; je suis à vous dans un instant I will be with you in a moment; qu'il attende un instant let him wait a minute; on les attend d'un instant à l'autre we expect them any minute; they are expected, etc.

LESSON XII

§ 112. SUBJUNCTIVE Present or Future: le présent du subjonctif fully illustrated and reviewed from § 121 on. Thus called: subjoined (subordinate, depending) because this tense is generally dependent upon another; it implies probability or uncertainty; desirability or undesirability; in other words it is the mode of expectation, contingency, requirement and is introduced by que:

je ne crois pas (je doute) qu'il soit malade I do not believe he is ill (: that he is ill); il est possible qu'il l'ait he may have it (it is possible that he may have it); il aura soin que vous ayez votre argent he will see that you get (secure) your money.

Observe: The verb in the principal clause,—being in the Present or Future, is followed in the subordinate clause by a verb in the Subjunctive Present or Past, if one wishes to express a past action: il est possible que vous ayez payé trop cher you may have paid too much; payer cher sa victoire to pay dearly for one's victory; il a payé sa visite cinq francs he paid him five francs for his visit; colloq.: il me le payera I shall have my revenge; payer d'ingratitude to repay (reward) with ingratitude; il agit personnellement he acted in person; continuellement unceasingly; il paya de sa personne he took a risk (he was in the thick of the fray or battle); on ne se paye pas de mots words are insufficient (do not satisfy us); il se paiera un complet (full suit); he will treat himself to a suit; un vêtement dont toutes les pièces sont de la même étoffe a (full) suit composed of the same material.

1. after verbs implying doubt, will, supposition, mild affirmation, concession, preference, wish, forbidding and emotions (fear, joy, sorrow, etc.):

j'entends que vous restiez ici I expect you to stay here; il doute que cela soit he doubts whether it be so; je ne doute pas qu'il ne le fasse I do not doubt that he will do that (it); il n'y a pas le moindre doute there isn't the least doubt; le moindre d'entre nous the lowest in rank among us; le moindre bruit les effraie the least noise frightens them (it takes little to etc.); assurément; sans doute; assuredly; no doubt; without doubt; j'entends que l'on m'obéisse I expect to be obeyed; c'est mon intention que l'on m'obéisse it is my intention that I shall be obeyed; on entendait qu'aucune avance ne pût être consentie (autorisée) it was intended that no preliminary steps should be allowed; autoriser to authorize; autorisation, authorization.

Note sequence of tense in the foregoing examples.

sérieusement seriously; cette chose mérié qu'on y réfléchisse this matter deserves that one should think it over; que vouliez-vous qu'il fût contre trois? what would you have had him do against three? qu'il mourût (Corneille) I should have had him die; il est heureux (c'est un bonheur) qu'il l'ait rencontré it is fortunate he should have met him; il ne viendra jamais à l'idée de personne de croire que ce soient des bêtes no one would ever imagine that they are animals; il est douteux qu'on le fasse it is doubtful whether it will be done; or: il n'est pas certain que cela se fasse; il s'attend à ce qu'elle vienne he expects that she will come; il veut que je parte he wants me to go; cf.: il veut partir he wants to go; je veux bien qu'il parte I am willing he should go; il se peut qu'il soit malade perhaps he is ill; he may be ill. my opinion is	his (her) opinion is, etc.
il est vrai, sûr, incontestable	it is sure, true
il est clair	il est incontestable
it is clear	it is demonstrated il paraît d'ailleurs que c'est lui qui est coupable
it seems however that it is he who is guilty

Observe: Those same verbs used negatively would require the subordinate clause in the Subjunctive:

il ne lui semble pas que leur désir soit susceptible de it does not seem to him (her) that their desire is apt to (or: capable of) or: may assume.

5. in reference to verbs of will, supposition, use the Indicative in a subordinate clause if the matter questioned is very likely true:

on suppose qu'il a fait son devoir they suppose (assume) that he has done his duty; on prétend qu'il est vivant they presume he is alive.

same remark applies to interrogative or negative verbs:

croyez-vous vraiment que j'ai cassé cette fenêtre? do you really believe I broke that window? il ne croit pas que je suis là he does not believe I am here.

6. always the Subjunctive after the following conjunctive clauses:

NOTE.—quoique is apostrophized only before: un (e), on; il; elle; quoique pas très gaie cette perspective l'enchanté although not very inviting this perspective charms him; quoique or quelle que soit la chose que whatever the thing may be that; quelque chose que je lui aie dit whatever I may have said to him (her); elle attend que son fils revienne (elle attend le retour de son fils) she expects her son's return; se rendre à to go to; to repair to; quoi que vous fassiez (vous avez beau faire) whatever you (may) do or in vain you do; si riche que l'on soit, il est bon de however rich one may be, it is well to; quoi que ce soit or: quelque chose que vous ayez promise whatever you may have promised; sans qu'il soit nécessaire de se donner beaucoup de peine without (giving one's self) much trouble; admettez (prenez) qu'elle n'ait rien dit admit that she did not say anything; sans qu'il s'en doute without his suspecting it.

LESSON XIII

§ 123. ORAL DRILL based on the Indicative after:

au moment où tout fait présager qu'on doit réussir at the moment when everything presages success; dès que (from the very moment) vous vous présenterez as soon as you (will) make an appearance; dès que vous voulez since you wish; aussitôt que (en même temps que) vous présentez votre note, vous touchez toujours votre argent whenever you present your bill, you receive your money; sitôt que (aussi promptement) as soon as; au moment même qu'il arriva at the very moment he came; aussitôt après son arrivée immediately after his arrival; dès qu'elles sont sincères since they are sincere; aussi bien que as well as; Jean aussi bien que Paul John as well as Paul; il est aussi instruit que vous he is as well informed as you; il est aussi imbécile (faible d'esprit) que son ami he is as much an imbecile (weak-minded) as his friend; on le dit; et moi aussi so it is said; and I too; lui aussi le dit he also says it. ainsi que (de la manière que) or; comme; si c'est ainsi que la chose s'est passée if it happened thus; je vous la raconterai ainsi (telle) que je l'ai entendue (raconter) I shall relate it as I heard it; s'il en est ainsi if such is the case; cela s'est passé ainsi (tel) que je vous l'ai raconté that occurred precisely (in the way) I told you; ainsi va le monde such is the world; il en est ainsi de tout le monde thus it is with everybody; offrez les billets à mesure que les amis passeront present the tickets as friends pass along; défiler to defile; to go by; to go past; à proportion proportionately; à mesure qu'il reçoit tant, il dépense tant in proportion to the amount received he spends; au fur et à mesure (à fur et à mesure) qu'il dépense in proportion as he spends or according to the amount spent; successivement (l'un après l'autre) in succession; one after the other; attendu que (vu que); de la même manière; considering; in as much as; in so far as; whereas; on vous traitera de la même manière que vous aurez traité les autres they will deal with you in the way you deal with others; aussi loin que la vue s'étend as far as the eye reaches; tant que as far as; as long as; aussi longtemps qu'il vivra as long as he lives; il gagne autant que moi he earns as much as I do; autant de café que de thé as much coffee as tea; d'autant mieux so much (all) the more (the better) [for it]; une fois autant as much again; d'autant plus qu'il est avare the more so because he is a miser; cela diminuera ses dettes d'autant that will make his debts so much the less.

Exercice de Conversation sur l'indicatif:

à la condition qu'il soit sage provided he is good; durant que while; tant que durera le conflit while the conflict lasts or: as long as; de ce que vous dites from what you say; depuis que les progrès de la science ont démontré sa valeur since the progress in science has demonstrated its merit; on inscrit les noms à mesure qu'on les reçoit names are inscribed as they are received; de même que in the same manner as; so as, as; vu que (du moment que; puisque; étant considéré que); considering, since, seeing that; puisque (since, in as much as); puisque vous vous refusez à avouer ce que vous faisiez since you refuse to confess what you were doing; pendant qu'elle roule ses cheveux pour les friser while she rolls up her hair to curl it; tandis qu'elles tiennent à la branche while they hang to (on) the branch; d'autres se tiennent sous l'arbre others stand under the tree.

peut-être qu'il y a une équivoque de sens perhaps there is ambiguity; un double sens double interpretation; parce que l'on exécute une danse, au son de la musique because they perform a dance to an accompaniment; par ce que judging from; from what; sans doute qu'il possède un autographe (de) no doubt he has an autograph in his possession; peut-être vous attend-il perhaps he is waiting for you; lorsque when; quand la mort le surprit when death overtook him; outre cela besides that; outre que ce sont des preuves écrites not only they are written proofs or: besides being written proofs; tandis que while (whilst); au lieu que while on the contrary (whereas). Observe: tandis que implies contrast;

NOTE.—quand (when) is used preferably in a general sense to lorsque, and refers to a future, an hypothetical idea; also in questions.

selon que, suivant que according.

Observe: de manière que so that; de sorte que; de façon que; en sorte que, so that; si ce n'est que except; tellement que so that (to such an extent); sinon que unless, all are used in the Indicative (in the subordinate clause) when certainty is implied or with the Subjunctive when there is doubt.

Oral Drill:

faites en sorte (de telle sorte) que tout le monde soit content manage in such a way that everybody be pleased; il fit de telle sorte que

tout le monde était content he managed so that every one was pleased; de quelque manière que ce soit in any way whatever; tâchez d'arriver à ce que vous joigniez les deux bouts contrive to have both ends meet; une combinaison a contrivance; quand il vient à pleuvoir, le vent s'apaise when the rain comes, the wind abates; pendant qu'il met (a) la main à la pâte while he is at it; while he does the work himself; du jour qu'il est parti since the day he left; à la condition qu'il ne demandera rien provided he asks for nothing; à la condition de servir à table with the condition that you wait, etc.; selon qu'il sera bon ou méchant as he is good or bad; according to his merit or demerit; selon qu'il vous a bien ou mal servi according as he served you rightly or not; de manière à être de niveau avec la surface de l'eau so as to be on the level with the surface of the water; suivant qu'elle se gonfle ou qu'elle se vide in the way it is inflated or not; vider une bouteille to empty the contents of a bottle; on vide une volaille they clean a fowl; vider un différend to settle a dispute; il vida la bouteille de vin he drank the bottle of wine; rien de grave ne se faisait qu'on ne les eût auparavant consultés nothing important would be transacted before consulting them; sauf qu'il agit légèrement la main except move his hand slightly; son estomac est vide (ne contient pas d'aliments) his stomach is empty (contains no food); sa mort fait un grand vide his death makes a great void; dégarni empty: (left) bare; le parloir est vide the drawing-room has been emptied; sans rien contenir empty or à vide empty; d'où l'on a tout enlevé where everything has been removed; puisque ce mot est vide de sens since that word is devoid of meaning; il perdit tellement (à tel point) qu'il revint les mains vides he lost to such an extent that he came back with empty hands.

§ 125. SURJUNCTIVE IN THE PRINCIPAL CLAUSE (absolute subjunctive) used in independent clauses with an idea of the Imperative Mood; also in certain forms of concessions; in imprecations with or without que:—

qu'il le veuille ou non whether he wishes it or not; vaille que vaille for better or worse; haphazard; ainsi soit-il amen; thus be it; pas que je sache not that I know; je ne sache rien I know nothing, etc.; puissé-je réussir may I succeed! Dieu le veuille please God.

NOTE.—Principally used in the substantive clauses with: avoir; être; venir; advenir; garder; plaie; périr; savoir; vivre; vouloir.

vive la République long live the Republic! Dieu m'en garde (à Dieu ne plaise) God forbid! honni soit qui mal y pense evil to him who evil thinks; viennne le déluge! after that the deluge! adviennne que pourra come what may; qui vive who goes (is) there? or: sentinel's cry; sur le qui-vive on the alert; dussé-je périr! were I to perish! soit! or: qu'il en soit ainsi let it be so; sauve qui peut (le sauve-qui-peut) save himself who can; fasse le ciel God grant.

Various Examples (exemples divers):

passse encore pour cela let it pass; soit dit entre nous be it said among ourselves (between ourselves); cela soit dit en passant but that by the way; Dieu vous assiste (que Dieu vous assiste) may God assist you; as a threat: qu'on ne vous y reprenne plus don't do it again; Dieu vous le rende may God reward you; grand bien vous fasse much good may it do you; qu'il n'en soit plus question let us say no more about it; que cela ne vous tourmente point don't let that worry you; que cela n'arrive plus never do that again; qu'à cela ne tienne little matters.

NOTE.—You may often explain the above Subjunctives in parsing either by inverting or by expressing the verbs of wishing, etc., which are understood.

Exercice de Conversation:

que le hasard seul décide rely solely upon chance; un jeu de hasard game of chance; qu'il compte sur (or s'abandonne au) le hasard that he should count upon (trust to) fortune; c'est beaucoup dire that is saying much; on s'expose à des pertes (à des revers) we make ourselves liable to losses (reverses); s'exposer au danger to be exposed to danger; qu'il expose ses peintures let him exhibit his paintings; exposer son système to explain (to propound; to expound) one's system; il expose sa vie tous les jours he endangers his life every day; leur appartement est un peu trop exposé au nord their apartment is rather too much exposed to the north; enfant abandonné foundling; s'exposer à la critique to lay one's self open to criticism; argent (m.) comptant cash; qu'il fasse un exposé des faits let him draw up a statement based on facts; les produits de presque tous les pays furent admis à l'Exposition de San Francisco the products of most countries were admitted at the San Francisco Exposition; quelle belle exposition de marchandises! what a beautiful exhibit of merchandise! quel opulent étalage! what an opulent display!

qu'on l'ait abandonné sur la place, c'est un fait constaté that he was abandoned in the square is a known fact; le vitrier the glazier; les foires se tiennent annuellement à X. the country-fairs are held annually at X.; quel bel emplacement pour les bestiaux what a fine location for cattle; les Halles de Paris Central Market in Paris; une place publique a public place; le marché au poisson the fish-market; les mettre en vue to place them in view; qu'il exhibe son passeport let him show (produce) his passport; le vitrage glazing; belle exhibition de tableaux a beautiful show of pictures; un étalage d'objets qui intéressent le public a display of articles which interest the public; une vitrine a show-window; certain marchands étalent leurs marchandises sur la voie publique certain merchants display their goods on the street; le carreau de vitre pane of glass; on ne passe pas no thoroughfare; le vitrail the stained glass window; une porte vitrée a glass door; vitrier to provide with glass.

§ 126. Certain Relative Pronouns or CONJUNCTIVE ADVERBS: implying doubt, inclination; also when the principal clause refers to a general negation or the negation implies a negative answer, all require the Subjunctive:

indiquez-lui un livre qu'il puisse comprendre recommend him a book which he may understand; je lui ai recommandé un livre qu'il peut comprendre I did recommend him a book that he can understand; same rule after: qui; le seul; la seule; les seuls qui; les seules qui; le premier qui; la première qui; les premiers qui; les premières qui.

also: after Superlatives, except when the idea is absolutely true; the superlative, the numeral word, the negative, interrogative or conditional clause, adjectival clause being based on certainty:

envoyez-moi quelqu'un qui sache commander send me some one that knows how to order; y a-t-il un endroit qui soit plus pittoresque que celui-ci is there a spot more picturesque than this? un site agréable a pleasant site (scenery); un paysage magnifique a magnificent landscape; il n'est rien qui vaille nothing worth considering; en est-il un parmi nous qui ne soit coupable? is there one among us who is not guilty?

y a-t-il un homme qui n'ait quelque mérite? is there a man who has not some merit? il y a peu de personnes qui le sachent not everybody knows it; few people know it; peu de gens l'ignorent few people are ignorant of it; n'est-ce point elle qui m'a salué? is it not she who greeted me? c'est le meilleur cigare qu'il y ait dans cette boîte it is the best cigar (there is) in the box; de ces trois cigares, c'est le meilleur que vous avez out of those three cigars you have the best; c'est le seul serviteur que j'ai he is the only servant I have; il est seul coupable de ce crime he is the only one guilty of that crime; ne: note again that ne comes after verbs of fear (and after comparisons of inequality or as above) unless used interrogatively, negatively, or followed by de:

prenez garde que vous ne tombiez take care not to fall; prenez garde de tomber take care, etc.; gardez-vous bien de mentir beware of lying; à moins qu'il ne garde une poire pour la soif unless he lays up something for a rainy day; empêchez qu'il ne le fasse prevent him from doing that; de crainte qu'il ne soit malade for fear that he may be ill (for fear of his being ill); il craint qu'il ne soit absent he fears he may be absent.

§ 128. GENERAL RULE AND FINAL REVIEW:—SUBJUNCTIVE or INDICATIVE:

Should you be certain, positive, use Indicative; should you be doubtful or uncertain, use Subjunctive. In other words: independently of the form and in accordance with the general rules, ask yourself if there is an underlying idea which affects the principal and the subordinate clauses.

Then: should what is expressed in a subordinate clause be certain, positive, use the verb of that clause in the indicative; should what is expressed in a subordinate clause be uncertain or: purely probable, use the verb in that clause in the Subjunctive.

= main clause with subordinate

= present or future with subjunctive present or past

- = past tenses with subjunctive imperfect or pluperfect,
- = imperfect (Subjunctive) often replaced;
- = Conditional present with Subjunctive present or imperfect;

je ne pense pas qu'il sorte I do not think he will go out; ne pensez pas qu'il sorte do not think he will go out; je ne pensais pas qu'il vînt I did not think he would come; je ne pensai pas qu'il vînt I did not think he would come; il a voulu qu'on vienne (soit venu) he wished us to come; quoique je ne pense pas qu'il sorte though I do not think he will go out; je ne penserai pas qu'il sorte I shall not think he will go out; quoique je pensasse qu'il vînt though I thought he would come; je ne penserais pas qu'il vînt I should not think he would come; quoiqu'il ait voulu though he wished; though he has wished; il avait voulu (il eut voulu; quoiqu'il eût voulu; il aurait voulu) qu'elle vînt (or: fût venue) he had wished (he had wished; though he had wished; he should have wished) her to come.

NOTE.—Few exceptional cases after verbs of saying, etc., where a Present Indicative, etc., may be followed by a Past Subjunctive or inversely:

on ne croyait pas qu'il y ait tant de monde we did not believe that there would be (are) so many people; (various examples p. 167, § 123) on n'affirme point qu'ils eussent tort we do not affirm they were wrong (sequence of tense depends mainly on the sense of the context): je doute que les Grecs fussent tous des artistes I doubt that all the Greeks were artists; il n'y a point d'artiste qui pût l'égal he has no equal; no artist (there has been no artist) equal to him; je voudrais qu'il vienne I should like him to come; Dieu nous a donné certains talents pour que nous nous en servions God has given talents that we may make use of them.

LESSON XIV

§ 130. INFINITIVE (l'infinitif):

In general it stands as an equivalent to the English infinitive preceded by to; as an object of, or dependent on the verb the Infinitive may be preceded by de or à; or without any preposition. See § 133 to § 144.

The point to be emphasized is to determine when you have to use either proposition (de or à) before the Infinitive; de which is of more frequent use may be merely a sign of the Infinitive or may most commonly replace to; of or from; on account of; in respect to; for, in English.

Briefly stated it may be used as a verbal substantive,—expressing generally an action, but vaguely; as an object, predicate, prepositional phrase, etc. As a noun and with the article, possessive adjective; compare the Greek, Latin and French forms.

les vivres, le boire et le manger food, drinking and eating; le déjeuner, le dîner, le souper, le goûter breakfast (lunch), dinner, supper, luncheon; le devoir, le lever, le coucher (du soleil) duty, rising, the setting (of the sun).

§ 131. The French Infinitive has a Present and a Perfect Tense: lire to read; avoir lu to have read. The Present Infinitive may correspond to the Indicative, Imperfect, Future and the Conditional,—as a subordinate clause.

il croit lire or il croit qu'il lit he believes he is reading; (the latter form is required when the subject refers to different persons);
il croyait lire or il croyait qu'il lisait he thought he was reading;
il compte arriver or il compte qu'il arrivera he expects to arrive; il comptait arriver (il comptait qu'il arriverait) he expected to arrive (. . . he would arrive); elle comptait venir (. . . qu'elle viendrait) she expected to come (she would come); je pense (j'entends) partir I expect to leave; je crois commencer à vous comprendre I believe I begin to understand you; elle a cru devoir lui parler or elle a cru qu'elle ferait bien de lui parler she thought she had better speak to him (she thought she would speak); elle a cru qu'il lisait she thought he was reading; il croit de son devoir de le gronder (il croit qu'il est de son devoir de etc.) he deems it a duty to scold him; je veux le croire it may be so!

§ 132. PERFECT OF THE INFINITIVE corresponds to the Past (Perfect), Pluperfect, Future Anterior and the Conditional Past:

il croit qu'il a lu he thinks he has read; il aime la lecture (il aime à lire) he likes to read (he is fond of reading).

NOTE.—Modal Auxiliary verbs with complement (or object): devoir; vouloir; savoir; pouvoir; oser and also: faire; laisser and several verbs with no preposition between them serve as a sort of auxiliaries; also as subject or in apposition; as predicate or logical subject; after a few Impersonal verbs; after certain verbs of desiring, intending, hoping and the like; and of declaring, believing, perceiving and in some relative clauses. Examples will illustrate rule under proper heading.

§ 133. INFINITIVE AS SUBJECT:

lire, c'est travailler to read is to work; reading is working; ce stands as a repetition: ce n'est point gentil de votre part de parler ainsi (for: parler ainsi n'est point gentil) to speak thus does not become you.

1. in the latter case de may be omitted; and in a comparison de is required;

vaut mieux se taire que de dire des sottises à ce monsieur better be silent than to say harsh things to that gentleman; il vaudrait mieux se taire better be silent.

2. as a logical subject the infinitive is often anticipated and generally preceded by de (as an expletive):

il est agréable de voyager (voyager est agréable) it is pleasant to travel (traveling is pleasant); le plus sûr est de lui parler the safest (way) is to speak to him (her); il est inutile de répondre; lui répondre, c'est inutile; it is useless to answer; to answer him is useless; ne répondez pas do not answer; il fait bon pêcher en eau trouble it is good fishing in troubled water; c'est à lui à jouer it is his turn to play; c'est à vous de lui dire de ne pas jouer it belongs to you to tell him not to play. See § 120.

historical infinitive; de after nouns, adjectives and verbs. § 139.

§ 134. INFINITIVE AS ATTRIBUTE:

jouer n'est pas travailler playing is not working.

and in such predicates as:

il semble se plaindre he seems to lament; il est censé connaître la loi he is supposed to know the law; son premier devoir est d'être auprès de sa mère his (her) first duty is to be with his (her) mother.

de in predicate uses is replaced by à when the infinitive has the force of a predicate adjective or is rendered by to be (plus the adjective or past participle):

il est facile de faire cela to do that is easy; c'est facile à faire that is easy to do (to be done); ils sont à plaindre they are to be pitied.

§ 135. INFINITIVE AS DIRECT OBJECT:

il veut entrer he wishes to enter;

faire (and its various uses and meanings): when followed by faire or any other verb,—is translated by: to cause or have and the object:

je ferai entrer le monsieur I shall have the gentleman enter (I shall cause him to come in); elle fera faire une robe she will have a gown made.

Faire with a reflexive verb (and the latter losing: se or nous, etc.):

je lui ferai rappeler (not se rappeler) I shall have him (her) remember.

NOTE.—lui; leur (with faire) only used when the following verb has a direct object; otherwise: le; la; les.

je le ferai venir chez vous I shall have him come to your house;
je lui ferai parvenir cette lettre I shall have that letter sent to him;
j'ai fait boire un verre de lait à cet enfant (je lui ai fait boire, etc.)
 I gave (I caused that child to drink, etc.) that child a glass of milk;
je le lui ferai boire I shall make him drink it; with a few more uses and under its proper heading (Irregular Verbs).

§ 136. ILLUSTRATIVE SENTENCES with de:

il est charmé de vous voir he is glad to see you; il s'abstint de boire he abstained from drinking; il se réjouit de les voir he rejoices at seeing them; elle a envie de pleurer she feels like crying; (and many other such expressions made from verb with noun): il a honte de he is ashamed of; il a besoin de (il est dans la nécessité de) se servir de lui he needs to make use of him; il importe peu d'y aller: il est de peu d'importance de (il est peu d'importance de, etc., or: cela est de peu de conséquence), it imports little to go there

(it is of little importance; of little consequence to, etc.); il n'est pas digne d'être récompensé (il est indigne de, etc.) he is not worthy of being rewarded (he is unworthy of, etc.); il s'agit de se comporter en homme d'honneur (il est question de) it is a question of behaving like a man of honor; il se repent d'avoir mal agi he repents having acted badly; il se mêle des affaires (il s'ingère dans les) he mixes in the affairs of; on a résolu de; venir de; on vous dispense de l'accompagner you are excused from accompanying him; (on trouve bon que and Subj.): on trouve bon que vous ne l'accompagniez pas it is found advisable that you should not accompany him; il s'exempte de ce travail (il se soustrait à l'obligation de) he avoids this work (he exempts himself from the obligation of).

§ 137. INFINITIVE AS INDIRECT OBJECT:

tu cherches à plaire you are trying to please; il tâche de se faire aimer or il cherche à se faire aimer he strives to make himself liked; cf.: tâchons de lui plaire let us endeavor to please him; efforçons-nous de (faisons tous nos efforts pour) let us make every effort to; vous êtes allé (allée) chercher le médecin you went for the doctor; une chambre à louer a room to rent (to be rented); utile à savoir useful to know.

une salle à manger a (one) dining-room; un verre à vin a wine-glass; une salle de spectacle play-house; un verre de vin a glass of wine; c'est une chose facile à faire.

REMARK.—If used with a preposition and in a subordinate clause the infinitive must refer to some word,—either as subject (expressed or understood) or direct and indirect object:

on travaille pour vivre we (people) work to live (i. e., the desire for living makes us work).

ambiguity in the following:

on le chassa sans savoir pourquoi they expelled him without knowing why. Better say: il fut chassé sans savoir pourquoi; cela va sans dire (sans qu'on le dise) of course.

§ 138. INFINITIVE CLAUSE mostly with:

laisser to allow voir to see sentir to feel entendre to hear écouter to listen penser to think and in common combination:

aller chercher to go for (to go and fetch); envoyer chercher to send for; venir chercher to come for; and other constructions: voir faire; faire voir; je vais le voir I will see him; il a pensé mourir he was on the point of dying; écoutez-le chanter listen to him singing; je le vois venir (je le vois qui vient) I see him coming; il a failli tomber he came within an ace of falling; il a beau parler in vain he speaks; nous sommes allés le trouver we went to find him; il a été le trouver he has been to find him.

§ 139. ABSOLUTE INFINITIVE in independent propositions (clauses):

que faire what am I (are we, etc.) to do? que dire? what am I going to say?

and in narrative infinitive:

- § 140. INFINITIVE in subordinate clause used (as previously explained) for: que and the verb,—when the subject is the same:

il pense réussir for: il pense qu'il réussira he thinks he will succeed.

and when the subject is different:

il croit le moment favorable arriver or: il croit que le moment favorable approche he believes the favorable moment is approaching.

NOTE.—Sometimes the different subject is inverted when the infinitive is a neuter verb or used as such:

il a écouté chanter cet enfant he listened to that child singing; elle a fait venir le médecin she sent for the doctor (physician): (she caused the physician to come).

- § 141. COMPARE THE INFINITIVE used alone (with a prepositional infinitive) or the Infinitive in a subordinate clause and as subject, object (direct or indirect). As an abstract noun:

il aime à lire (il aime la lecture) he likes to read (he is fond of reading); vouloir, c'est pouvoir willing is power or: where there is a will, there is a way.

and there is an idea of action implied in the infinitive but not in a noun; que as subject or object in dependent infinitives.

Oral Drill:

les paroles qu'il osait nier the words he dared to deny; l'argent que l'oncle affirmait posséder, le possédait the money the uncle maintained having, possessed him; il a fait sortir l'homme he made the man go out (he caused — to go out); on fera disparaître les difficultés we will cause the difficulties to be removed; on fera aplanir les difficultés difficulties will be smoothed; il jure d'y être he swears to be there; il jure être innocent he swears he is innocent; il profère des jurements he is profane; he blasphemes;

les mois de l'année sont: the months of the year are:
janvier	février	mars	avril	mai
January	February	March	April	May
juin	juillet	août	septembre	octobre
June	July	August	September	October
novembre November		décembre December

elles (ils) se succèdent sans interruption they succeed one another continuously; l'une (l'un) succède à l'autre one follows the other; l'un vient après l'autre one succeeds the other; tout lui réussit or il réussit en tout he is successful in everything; sans cesse; sans interruption unceasingly; continually; constamment (toujours) constantly.

§ 142. INFINITIVE être frequently omitted or the subject (agent) preceded by: à; de; par—:

on dit l'incendie à un kilomètre d'ici they say the fire is one kilometer from here.

Various Examples for Oral Drill and Conversation:

avez-vous entendu chanter cette chanson? have you heard any one sing that song? il a entendu dire à son père qu'elle mourra he heard his father say that she will die (soon); il a vu son frère assassiné par un voleur he saw his brother killed by a thief; il a vu son frère assassiner par un voleur he saw his brother being killed by a thief; il m'a fait taire he made me keep silent (here the reflexive pronoun is omitted): cf.: une voix de fauvette, celle de Dorothy, faisait se retourner lady B. (Bazin) a voice like a warbler, Dorothy's, caused Lady B. to turn around; (here se is used by a well-known writer); elles eurent vite fait d'élever la voix they soon raised their voices; je le (la) fais chanter I make him (her) sing; je lui fais chanter ce morceau I have him (her) sing that selection; je ferai chanter cet hymne à M. X. I shall have Mr. B. sing that hymn; il vous fera bien parler he will make you find a tongue; ses créanciers l'on fait arrêter his creditors had him arrested.

§ 143. FEW VERBS:—two in succession are linked without a preposition:

il va chanter he is going to sing; or: he will sing; il a beau crier in vain he cries; elle désire vous voir she wishes to see you; laissez-le jouer allow him to play; voulez-vous venir do you wish to (will you) come? je dois travailler I must work; savez-vous parler français can you speak French? pouvez-vous marcher are you able to (can you) walk? il ose le répéter he dares to repeat it; quand comptez-vous partir? when do you expect to leave? je le vois revenir I see him coming back (or returning). Other examples at § 80.

§ 144. IMPORTANT REMARK.—All prepositions: à; de; sans; pour; après, etc., are followed by the infinitive; en alone requires the Present Participle:

après avoir lu after reading (after having read); après sa lecture after his (her) reading; après s'être égaré after having wandered; on attend avant d'être introduit près de quelqu'un we are expected to wait before being shown in (one is . . .); sans avoir pris ses précautions without being prepared (unprepared); en allant; tout en allant; in going; while going.

LESSON XV

§ 145. PARTICIPLE IN GENERAL (verbum infinitum in its form): by its stem it partakes of a verb; by its inflection of an adjective; or it becomes a simple noun.

Present Participle called: participe actif;

Past Participle called: participe passif;

§ 146. PARTICIPIAL CLAUSE: thus called when its participial use is in an apparently isolated, independent statement:

le printemps venu, il partit Spring having come, he left Dieu aidant, vous réussirez God helping, you will succeed.

Observe: When the Past Participle is used as an adjective (qualifying the subject) there is no participial clause:

l'enfant poussé par ses camarades tomba dans le vice the child influenced by his comrades became addicted to vice.

Oral Drill:

en passant du linge au bleu putting clothes (washing) through bluing water; en se rinçant la bouche while rinsing his mouth; sans entamer sa suprématie artistique et littéraire without attacking

NOTE.—All other countries,—not ending in -e, are masculine:
le Chili; le Pérou, etc.

§ 162. AS PREPOSITIONS.—The Past Participle (being used as such) is invariable when—preceding the noun or sentence:

hormis (hors et mis) except; attendu les événements considering the events; approuvé les résolutions approved the resolutions; ci-joint copie de votre résolution or: vous trouverez ci-joint, etc., here-with a copy of your act; vous trouverez ci-incluse la (une) copie please find enclosed copy, etc.

Observe: ci-joint and ci-inclus are invariable in the body of a sentence,—when no article or determining adjective precedes them.

certifié les signatures witnessed the signatures; excepté mes frères except my brothers; mes frères exceptés my brothers excepted; ouï les témoins heard the witnesses; étant donné les circonstances or: eu égard aux etc. (en considération des etc.) considering the circumstances; passé huit heures on n'entre pas after eight, no admittance; sauf erreur (omission) errors excepted; sauf à changer (quille à changer) subject to correction; deux francs y compris le vin two francs with wine; two francs wine included; non compris la bière beer not included; supposé les motifs granted the motives; cf.: à l'exception d'un seul with the exception of only one; with but one exception; with one exception; with a single exception; exempt de fautes free from mistakes.

- § 163. PAST PARTICIPLE with être.—It is inflected in number and gender with the subject or pronoun to which it relates; être is often understood:

Marie-Antoinette, née à Vienne, mourut sur l'échafaud Marie-Antoinette, born in Vienna, died on the scaffold; l'Amérique fut découverte par Christophe Colomb America was discovered by Christopher Columbus; grâces vous soient rendues may thanks be given to you; beaucoup sont appelés, peu sont élus many are called, few are chosen; partis le soir, ils arrivèrent le lendemain having left in the evening they arrived the following day; c'est ainsi que sont morts ses amis thus have his friends died.

- § 164. PASSIVE VERBS.—They are always conjugated with être, expressed or understood in their simple tenses; and with two auxiliaries (avoir, être) in their compound tenses:

la porte est ouverte the door is open; porte ouverte ou non, j'entre whether the door is opened or not, I enter; il est entré dans la chambre he entered the room.

Oral Drill:

LESSON XVII

- § 168. PAST PARTICIPLE with avoir (or: être in the Reflexive Verbs). It never agrees with the subject and only with the direct object preceding the verb:

il a lu la lettre que vous avez lue he read the letter which you have read; ce sont les livres qu'elle a eu à lire those are the books (which) she had to read; que de questions il a posées! how many questions he asked! combien d'examens avez-vous passés how many examinations did you pass? quelle plume a-t-il cassée? which pen did he break? elle a subi avec succès un examen de she passed successfully an examination in; ils se sont levés de bonne heure they got up early; and note that se is the direct object and compare: ils se sont écrit des lettres or: ils se sont écrit they wrote letters to each other; they corresponded with one another; elles se sont écrit they wrote to each other; voici les lettres qu'elles se sont écrites here are the letters they wrote to each other.

1. after combien de how much (many); autant de as much (many); que de how much (many); plus de more; moins de less, etc., the Past Participle agrees with the noun following them;
2. after la foule de the multitude of; le peu de the little of; une nuée de a cloud of (a flock, a swarm), etc., the Past Participle may or may not agree:
la foule d'esclaves que j'ai vue or vus the multitude of slaves I have seen. Emphasis on either: foule or esclaves.
3. in a few gallicisms there is no agreement:
je l'ai échappé belle! I had a narrow escape! je l'ai manqué belle (l' or la stands for: occasion) I did not avail myself of it.
4. redundant past seldom used:

je leur ai envoyé la lettre dès que je l'ai eu terminée I sent them the letter as soon as I had it finished; cf.: nous les avons crus morts we believed them dead; il ne lui restait plus qu'à choisir he had no choice left; there remained no more (for him) to choose from; il en a (encore) de reste he has some left; he has some more; elle en est sortie résolue à les imiter she came out (from the play) fully determined to imitate them; il en a laissé quelques-uns he left some (a few of them).

Oral Practice:

se sentant un peu fatiguée et voulant recouvrer ses forces (reprendre ses forces) elle se retira de bonne heure feeling somewhat tired and wishing to recuperate (to regain her strength) she went back home early; se retirer à la campagne to retire to the country; il est retiré des affaires (: s'est retiré) or: (il ne s'en occupe plus) he is retired from business (or: has retired) or he no longer attends to it; les troupes se retirent the withdrawal of (the) troops; battre en retraite to beat a retreat; il mène une vie retirée he leads a retired life; on l'a retiré de l'école he has been removed from school; je retire ma confiance à Jean I withdraw my confidence in John; et il s'éloigna and he withdrew; ses jours s'écoulaient dans la retraite her days are spent in seclusion; retirez le fusil à cet enfant take the gun away from that child; si vous retirez ce mot injurieux, je vous pardonnerai if you retract this insult I will forgive you; le misérable répudia sa femme the wretch put away (divorced) his wife; il retira (désavoua) ce qu'il avait dit (se rétracta) he retracted; (refused to acknowledge or own or he denied) what he had said; elle répudia la croyance de ses pères she repudiated (renounced) the faith of her fathers; on renonça à ce projet that project was abandoned; we (they) gave up the project; elle ne s'attache plus au monde (elle y renonce) she renounced the world; she renounced it; il faudra vous désister de vos importunités you must desist from your importunities; renoncez-y! stop! elle ne se départ point de son devoir she does not swerve from her duty; tout autour; de tous côtés all around; on all sides; en faisant le tour de la ville in making the rounds of the city; autour de moi around (about) me; autour de la lune around the moon; avec des légumes autour with vegetables around it.

§ 169. REMARKS on avoir with a Participle. Neuter Verbs or others used as such and Impersonal Verbs have no direct object:

elles ont vécu; ils ont dormi; they (have) lived; they have slept; les trois heures qu'il a dormi (pendant lesquelles il a dormi) the three hours that he slept (in which he, etc.); les grandes chaleurs qu'il a fait! the hot season that we had! les cinq ans qu'il a vécu the five years he lived; les quelques semaines qu'elle a régné the few weeks she reigned; les pluies qu'il y a eu the rain that fell.

vécu lived régné reigned coûté cost souffert suffered

valué	gémi	pleuré	langui valued	moaned	wept	languished

all are invariable unless used in a figurative sense:

les deux francs qu'il m'a coûté the two francs it has cost me; les quelques minutes que le cheval a couru the few minutes the horse ran; cinq francs! cette canne ne les a jamais valu five francs! that cane was never worth it; que de milles vous avez marché how many miles (and miles) you walked! les trois mois qu'il a vécu the three months that he lived; les quatre kilogrammes que ce gigot a pesé the four kilograms this leg of mutton weighed.

and compare:

que de dangers nous avons courus how many dangers (perils) we incurred! sa vie, l'a-t-il vécue his (her) life, has it been a reality? has he (she) really led that life? que de peines il m'a coûtées what sorrow it has been to (brought) me! (NOTE.—Not approved by the French Academy); voilà les éloges que son travail lui a valu such is the praise due to his work; la viande qu'on a pesée the meat which has been weighed.

Exercice de Conversation:

la plupart ont été patronnés et protégés most (of them) have been patronized and protected; abandonnés, trahis peut-être par les leurs abandoned, betrayed perhaps by their own; il pouvait soulever un de ses bras he could raise one of his arms; avec la plus grande facilité with the greatest ease (facility); la raillerie de l'auteur s'y donne pleinement carrière the raillery (slight satire) of the author is unrestrained; il vous donne pleine liberté de le faire he gives you full liberty to act; embrasser la carrière des armes to go into the army; elle embrasse son fils she embraces her son; elle le baise au front she kisses his forehead; elle lui donne un baiser she gives him a kiss; elle sauta au cou de son père she fell on her father's neck; se jeter dans les bras de to run into the arms of; elle cherche en lui un (appui) protecteur she is seeking in him a protector; she seeks in him a protective support; on tenta vainement de restaurer la monarchie it was vainly attempted to restore monarchy; il se couvrit de gloire à he covered himself with glory at; ce qui demeure d'un tout what is left out of a total number; en retranchant une partie in deducting a part; enfin, les voilà arrivés (or: rendus) at last they have arrived (come); la joie se répand sur tous les visages joy is spread over every face; en répandant de l'eau sur la nappe (while) spilling water over (on) the table-cloth; répandre des larmes to shed tears; il versa (répandit) son sang he shed his blood; le soleil répand sa lumière sur tout le globe the sun diffuses its light all over the globe; il se dissipe (se répand) dans le monde he dissipates socially; il va souvent dans la société; il est fort répandu dans le monde he often goes into society; répandre l'alarme to spread the alarm; se répandre en invectives to break into (to use) invectives; on le dénonça we denounced him; on le signala we described him; on appela l'attention de l'autorité sur lui (we accused him; we informed against him) we gave information to the authorities against him; we lodged information to the, etc.; j'attire votre attention sur I call your attention to; une faute d'attention; par manque d'—a fault of inattentiveness; through lack of attention; défaut d'attention (inattention) want of attention; inattention; il n'y a jamais eu en Amérique de famille(s) de ce nom there never was in America a family by that name.

- § 170. SPECIAL RULES ON a Past Participle followed by an Infinitive preceded or not by a preposition. The past participle may or may not agree with the preceding direct object:

ces actrices, je les ai vu or vues jouer those actresses, I saw them play; les avez-vous entendus or entendu chanter? did you hear them sing? qui les a laissé (laissés) partir? who allowed them to go (leave)?

- § 171. SAME RULE when followed by another Past or Present Participle:

sa mère qu'il avait cru (crue) perdue his (her) mother he had thought lost; les lettres que j'ai eues (eu) à écrire the letters I had to write.

Exceptions: fait (with Infinitive) is invariable; also: dû; pu; permis and voulu when an infinitive may be understood:

il les a fait congédier he had them dismissed; voici la robe que j'ai fait faire here is the gown I had made; nous lui avons rendu tous les services que nous avons dû (pu or voulu lui rendre) we rendered him every service that we should have (that we could or desired to render him).

but:

les cent francs que je lui ai dus sont payés the hundred francs I owed him have been paid; ce sont les sommes voulues these are the requisite sums; la chose requise the necessary thing (required); c'est tout ce qu'il faut that is all that is required; vous n'aurez point besoin de cette somme you wouldn't require that sum of money (that amount); dans l'ordre voulu in requisite form.

§ 172. BETWEEN TWO que the Past Participle is invariable when the object follows:

voilà les fautes que j'avais supposé que vous feriez those are the mistakes I had presumed you would make.

NOTE.—The frequent use of que . . . que is not always commendable nor elegant.

§ 173. THE PAST PARTICIPLE preceded by le (l') for: cela (as direct object) is not inflected:

l'affaire tourna comme on l'avait prédit the affair turned out as we had predicted (it would); la maladie est plus grave que nous l'avions pensé the illness is more serious than we had thought.

Oral Drill:

il perdit considérablement de son poids he lost considerable of his weight; il s'exerce (se livre) aux combats de boxe he trains (practises) for boxing bouts; sa digestion est lente et difficile his digestion is slow and painful; il exerce un métier pénible he practises an arduous trade (carries on, etc.); tirez à la courte paille (straw) choose by lot; draw lots (cuts); ce qui s'applique dans plusieurs opérations that's applied in many operations; employé comme combustible used as fuel; un corsage en tissu léger a waist of light tissue; un bloc de bois non travaillé a piece of rough wood; du fer battu wrought iron; c'est une matière qui s'embrase (s'enflamme) facilement a substance easily combustible (inflammable); la guerre a embrasé toute l'Europe war has set all Europe ablaze; le feu consume tout fire destroys (consumes) everything; un carré a square; la racine carrée the square root; un tableau partagé en soixante cases numérotées a board divided into sixty numbered squares; engagé dans une affaire périlleuse involved in a perilous affair; pour l'éclairage au gaz for gas-lighting; ainsi appelé de la couverture dont on le revêt thus called on account of the top (envelope) that covers it; en les grondant entre ses dents in snarling at them between his teeth; coupant à travers champs cutting across lots; en enfilant les harengs stringing herrings; enfiler une aiguille to thread a needle; appartement privé fort à la mode very stylish private apartment; on lui a coupé les oreilles his ears have been cut; they cut his ears; prendre un caractère plus démocratique to assume a more democratic character; ce qui honore le plus son érudition and that honors the more his erudition; une leçon particulière a private lesson; il est privé de son appui he is deprived of his support.

- § 174. EN and THE PAST PARTICIPLE.—The pronoun en (being neuter) is always an indirect object and the past participle does not change—unless determined by nouns or adverbs of quantity:

il a acheté des pommes et en a mangé he has bought apples and has eaten some (of them); quant au désastre, voici les nouvelles que j'en ai reçues as to the disaster, here is the news that I received; autant de lions il a tirés, autant (de lions) il en a tués as many lions as he shot at, he killed; plus il a eu de dollars, plus il en a dépensés the more money he had, the more he spent.

- § 175. IF ADVERB follows en, the Past Participle is not inflected:

quant aux pays, il en a tant visité in regard to countries he visited many of them; elle a plus de maisons que je n'en ai vu she has more houses than I have seen; hélas! qu'il en a vu mourir de jeunes gens alas! how many children he has seen die; des livres, combien en avez-vous lu? in reference to books, how many have you read? il a acheté beaucoup de meubles; j'en ai acheté plus que lui he bought many pieces of furniture; but I have bought more (than he).

- § 176. AFTER le peu de (sufficient quantity), the Past Participle agrees with its complement,—unless the idea refers principally to: le peu:

le peu de pommes que nous avons achetées nous a suffi the little quantity of apples we bought sufficed us; le peu de nourriture qu'il a pris a hâté sa mort the little food he took (has) hastened his death.

Collectives:

la foule de; la multitude des, etc., follow same rule according to sense and emphasis.

- § 177. PAST PARTICIPLE OF A REFLEXIVE VERB takes être (and is of active force) and agrees in gender and number with the direct object when the latter precedes:

elle s'est blessée she wounded herself; she has wounded herself;
elles se sont blessées à la main they are wounded in their hands;
elle s'est blessé la main she wounded her hand; voilà les nouvelles qu'elles se sont écrites that is the news they have written to one another; elles se sont écrit des lettres; elles se sont écrit; they corresponded; they wrote letters to each other.

NOTE.—se may be direct or indirect object.

- § 178. STRICTLY SPEAKING the Reflexive Verbs express an action reflecting upon the subject:

in reference to meaning; il s'est coupé he cut himself; in reference to their form some are by their nature essentially reflexive and their past participle agrees with the subject and are for that reason (often) called: essentially pronominal verbs:

elle s'est évanouie she fainted; les prérogatives qu'ils se sont arrogées the prerogatives that they have assumed.

NOTE.—The latter verb (essentially reflexive) is an exception to above rule and is inflected on account of its direct object preceding it.

See full list § 180.

ils se sont arrogé des pouvoirs excessifs they have assumed excessive powers; ils se sont attribué des droits (sans y avoir droit) they have claimed rights to which they were not entitled; on réclame ce qui nous appartient we claim our own (what belongs to us); revendiquez toujours vos droits always demand your rights; il assume toute responsabilité: la revendiquer; he assumes all responsibility; to take it upon one's self; (to undertake to perform an act).

General Practice:

cela fait (cela étant fait), il se retira that done (being done) he withdrew; vu les obstacles à surmonter in view of the obstacles to overcome; des difficultés insurmontables insurmountable difficulties (drawbacks); tout tourna à son désavantage everything turned out to his detriment; à son détriment to his prejudice; toute réserve faite de mes droits my rights being reserved; sans préjudice des vôtres without prejudice to yours; sans exception (réserve) without reserve (unreservedly); sous toute réserve with due restriction; il parle avec réserve he speaks with discretion; il est discret he is discreet.

§ 179. RECIPROCAL AND REFLEXIVE AND PRONOMINAL VERBS. The reciprocal verbs (a mutual act) express an idea with two subjects performing the same act (referring to the same verb):

ils se sont aimés (l'un a aimé l'autre) they liked (loved) each other (one has liked the other); les chiens se sont battus the dogs fought (they fought each other); elles se sont aimées les unes les autres they loved one another; ils s'instruisent mutuellement (mutually) they impart their knowledge to one, etc.

Note reciprocal force specially in the plural: ils se flattent réciproquement they flatter one another; cf.: ils se flattent de tout savoir they boast of knowing all; and to avoid ambiguity: ils se sont flattés les uns les autres they flattered one another; ils se sont battus they fought among themselves; se frapper mutuellement to strike one another; se repentir to repent; une amitié réciproque a reciprocal love; une aversion mutuelle a mutual aversion.

§ 180. VERBS ESSENTIALLY REFLEXIVE:

s'abstenir de to abstain from s'accouder to lean on one's elbow s'accroupir to crouch s'adonner à to give one's mind to s'agenouiller to kneel down

§ 93. IMPERFECT SUBJUNCTIVE:

with review:

croit-il que nous ne rompiissions sa volonté? does he believe he could not break his will? il faudrait que vous la rompiissiez it would be necessary for you to break it; il ne niera pas qu'ils ne la rompiissent he will not deny that they broke it; on voulait que je la rompis they wished me to break it; on doutait que je rompis they doubted I would break his will; on douta que je rompis, etc.; they doubted, etc.; on a douté que je rompis it has been doubted that or if I would break, etc.; on avait douté que je rompis they had doubted my breaking (: that I could break) his will; on aurait douté que je rompis they would have doubted my breaking his will.

and also with the Conditional:

on douterait que je rompis they would doubt my breaking his will.

NOTE.—In the last example the Imperfect (Subj.) refers to a future act and we may also use the Present Subjunctive:

on douterait que je rompe sa volonté they would doubt my breaking his will; quoiqu'on doutât que je rompisse sa volonté although they doubted that I would break, etc.

Review:

je doute que	(plus the Present Subjunctive)
quoique je doute	"	"	"	"
doutez que	"	"	"	"
je douterai que	"	"	"	"

and in other words: governing clauses requiring governed clauses in the Present Subjunctive; and incomplete action;

(b)

je doutais que	(plus the Imperfect Subj.)
je doutai que	"	"	"	"
quoique je doutasse que	"	"	"	"

§ 95

NOTE.—In an hypothetical clause added to a subordinate, the Imperfect Subjunctive answers to the Imperfect (Indicative):

je ne crois pas qu'il la rompt, si on s'y opposait I do not believe he would break it, if some one objected.

Again: any other tense than (a) requires the Imperfect Subjunctive; compound tenses follow the same (a) and (b); and the verb being the auxiliary:

j'ai douté (j'aurai douté; quoique j'aie douté) plus the Present Subj. or the Past (Perfect) Subj.

j'avais douté (j'eus douté; j'aurais douté; quoique j'eusse douté) plus the Imperfect or the Pluperfect Subj. or complete event.

Subjunctive present answers to the Present Indicative Pluperfect (Subjunctive) answers to the Pluperfect Indicative.

§ 96. SUBJUNCTIVE PAST (PERFECT):

Oral Drill:

on ne croira pas que nous l'ayons rompu they would not believe that we broke (did break) it; qui douterait que vous ayez rompu votre serment? who would doubt you have broken your oath? croient-ils qu'ils n'aient jamais rompu leurs vœux? do they believe they never broke their promises? je n'ai jamais cru qu'il les ait rompus I never believed he did break them.

and the General Rule:—The Perfect (Past) of the Subjunctive refers to a past act and depends generally on a principal clause in the Present or Future of the Indicative; and again the main underlying idea may (in the principal clause) introduce a Past tense or Future of the Indicative; otherwise study the context:

j'ai douté qu'il soit parti I doubted that he has left; j'ai douté qu'il fût parti I doubted that he had left; on ne dit pas qu'il fût absent we do not say he was absent; elle a douté qu'il vienne she doubted his coming (: that he will come); il a douté qu'il partît he doubted that he would set out; on ne croyait pas qu'il le fasse it was not believed he would do it; il faudrait qu'il le fasse he would have to do it; je désirerais (je voudrais bien) qu'il le fasse I should like him to do it.

and an Imperfect (plus a relative clause) may have a Past Subjunctive instead of a Pluperfect; or the Imperfect or the Pluperfect of the Subjunctive may follow any tense (in the Indicative).

§ 97. PLUPERFECT SUBJUNCTIVE:

Oral Drill:

il voudrait que nous l'eussions rompu au travail he would wish (now) we had trained him to work; on ne savait pas que vous eussiez rompu sa volonté it was not known you had broken his will; elle n'aurait pas voulu qu'on eût rompu sa volonté she would not have wished her will to have been broken; je ne croirai jamais qu'il l'eût rompue, si elle le lui avait ordonné I shall never believe he could have broken it, if she had ordered him (to do so); je doute qu'il les eût rompus I doubt he would have broken them.

§ 98. RULE.—The Pluperfect of the Subjunctive refers to a past act and depends generally on the principal clause (in one of the Past Tenses of the Indicative and Conditional):

on doutait; on a douté; on douta; on avait douté; on aurait douté (plus the que) and the Pluperfect of the Subjunctive.

Final Review: Above all the main underlying idea may (in the principal clause) introduce a verb in the Present, Future of the Indicative or Conditional, and require the Subjunctive and be followed by the Pluperfect of the Subjunctive; and again (as previously stated at p. 172 under General Rule) in an hypothetical clause added to a subordinate the Pluperfect (Subjunctive) answers to the Pluperfect (Indicative):

Present

étant aimé (e) being loved

§ 119

Perfect

ayant été aimé (e) having been loved

§ 120

Past Participle

aimé (m.) loved*aimée (f.)* loved

§ 121. RULE.—The past participle of a Passive Verb always agrees with the subject.

NOTE.—Strictly speaking all Active (Transitive) verbs become Passive:—

transitive:—

on vend ce livre à cinq francs that book is sold at five francs

reflexive:—

cf.: ce livre se vend cinq francs that book is sold at five francs passive:—

le livre est vendu the book is sold (has been sold) on (one; we; they) plus the active voice often rendered in English by the passive voice. See Reflexive (p. 203); Intransitive verbs (Neuter verbs) take frequently être.

Practice:

il est estimé he is esteemed; elle est estimée she is esteemed; vous êtes estimé (m. sing.) you are esteemed; — de tous by all; vous êtes estimée (f. sing.) you are esteemed; vous êtes estimés (m. plur.) you are esteemed; vous êtes estimées (f. plur.) you are esteemed; tu es estimé (m. sing.) you are esteemed; tu es estimée (f. sing.) you are esteemed; la leçon est finie the lesson is over; la maison est vendue the house is sold.

Observe.—Whether the past participle ends in -é (First Group); in -i (2d Group); or in -u (3d Group) it agrees as above in number and gender with the subject. All passive verbs take être and in all tenses and denote state or condition resulting from action.

A Short History of Rome

From the Foundation of the City to the Fall of the Empire of the West

By Guglielmo Ferrero Assisted by Corrado Barbagallo

Two Volumes. 8°

Volume I. The Monarchy and the Republic, from the Foundation of the City to the Death of Julius Caesar, 754 B.C.-44 B.C. Volume II.
The Empire

The leading ideas of the work are those which Ferrero has developed in his Greatness and Decline of Rome; and the method of setting forth his facts is the same too. Only the sketches are necessarily shorter, the narrative more concise and swifter, as is proper in a book intended for the use of classes.

The most novel feature in the author's method of exposition is, that instead of that method being, as is the case in almost all textbooks, diffuse, it is organic. This work does not contain a piecemeal account of wars, reforms, political crises, the progress of civilization and of culture and economic developments as isolated facts. On the contrary, the facts are brought into relationship, with the result that a well-rounded and organic impression is conveyed. It is the method which Sig. Ferrero pursued in his large work and to which in part that work owes its success.
